TELEPHONE BUILDING IN SAN FRANCISCO DYNAMITED

DECLARES CITY BREAKS LAW IF ROAD IS BUILT

United Railroads Seeks to Enjoin San Francisco From Selling the Bonds.

CLAIMS CONSTITUTION HAS BEEN VIOLATED

"No Municipality Shall Acquire Private Property Without Due Process."

SAN FRANCISCO, July 18.—When United States Judge Van Fleet returned to the city this morning for the week's duties, he made public the contents of the petition filed with him by the United Railroads for an injunction restraining the city and county of San Francisco from selling bonds and in any other manner carrying out the project of the construction of the Geary street line.

The principal grounds on which the petition is based is that the action of the local government is in violation of the fifth and fourteenth amendments to the constitution of the United States which provides that no state, county nor municipal government shall acquire the property of private corporations or individuals without due process of law.

MAKES FUTILE ATTEMPT TO DIE WITH PISTOL

Peter C. Long, Cousin of Miss Etta Leydecker, Attempts to Commit Suicide.

FIRES THREE SHOTS AT HEAD WITHOUT RESULTS

Bullet Grazes Skull, But Injury Is Slight: Reason for Action Is Unknown.

Penning a farewell note to his cousin, Miss Etta Leydecker of Alameda, Peter C. Long today fired three shots from a 32-caliber revolver at his head, succeeding in grazing his skull, and was taken to the Receiving Hospital in an unconscious condition, which the physicians ascribe to a hysterical belief he was dead.

Mayor Mott was in the vicinity and heard the shots, telephoning to the Receiving Hospital after the man had [illegible]ved.

Long made his attempt at suicide at [illegible] Seventeenth street, in the home of H. [illegible], where he has been living for some time. Shortly before noon the members of the household were startled to hear three shots, and on running into the room found Long lying on the floor.

SLIGHT SCALP WOUND

He was taken to the Receiving Hospital in the police ambulance and there it was found that he had only succeeded in inflicting a slight scalp wound and burning his face full of powder. He was unconscious and the physicians made a careful examination, thinking he might have taken poison, but found no symptoms of any drug or liquor. On searching his clothes an empty purse and a box of cartridges for the revolver from which he had fired the shots were found together with the farewell note.

INCOHERENT NOTE

The note is illegible and incoherent in places, but as nearly as can be made out is as follows:

"Miss Etta [illegible], [illegible] avenue, Alameda.

Dear cousin: Am sending you my friend and you can make [illegible] of all there is in it except my watch and fob of gold and silver [illegible] rings and the [illegible] handkerchief, the one in the little blue box and the little note framed [illegible] from my mother. Would like you to send them to my sister, [illegible] Long, St. Clair, Schuylkill county, Penn. And with a kind and loving farewell to you all, I am through with this world, but hope [illegible] you where I cannot enter [illegible] we will sing go to him."

The note is not signed. Long has been employed at the Keystone garage [illegible]. Friends [illegible] that little hope [illegible] his [illegible].

BIG SECTIONAL FIGHT OPENS BREACH IN D. A. R.

Mrs. Laird Declares Credentials of Northern Delegates Were Held Up.

CHARGES FLY THICK AND FAST IN CLUB

Accusations of Conspiracy and Unfair Play Are Made in the Open.

There is war in the ranks of the Daughters of the American Revolution.

The state is divided north from south, faction bitter one against the other, the source of difficulties being the recent election of Mrs. W. W. Stilman of Los Angeles as State regent, as the opposing candidate put up against Mrs. Frederick Jewel Laird of Berkeley, who has held the chair for two years past.

Charges of trickery, the adoption of unfair means used, it is alleged, in an effort to throw their choice into office, and a strong determination to see the entire matter cleared up comprises the attitude of the northern portion of the California branch of America's oldest and most conservative woman's organization, and the south, in a letter which is to be forwarded to the national board by Mrs. Laird, the southern contingent will be called on for an explanation of so-called dishonest tactics said to have been brought into play in order to carry Mrs. Stilman's election.

INVESTIGATION THOROUGH

The investigation is to be a thorough one, and is an opening gun in the battle royal which has been initiated. Mrs. Laird stands ready to prove that credentials of delegates from the north who would have assured her re-election were deliberately held up.

And this despite the fact that at the State meeting held at the St. Francis Hotel, San Francisco, February 19, which under the statutes of the order decides the choice for regent, the representation at the continental congress at Washington, which follows being merely a verification of the report of the vote cast by the various chapters, Mrs. Laird was elected by a majority of 12 votes out of [illegible]

SNOWED UNDER

That she was snowed under at the national capital is due, according to her constituents, to the failure of the delegates from Los Angeles and surrounding country to respect the letter of the fraternal law, namely, the phase which makes it both customary and in order to be elected at the continental congress the candidate for State regent must be chosen at the State meeting, which affords every chapter an individual representation.

Following close on the heels of the charges of dishonorable measures [illegible] attributed to the south, a second charge [illegible] sensation [illegible] one which

Railroad Men Ready to Strike

PHILADELPHIA, July 18.—A meeting [illegible] today between General Manager [illegible]yers of the Pennsylvania Railroads and representatives of the company's conductors and trainmen on lines east of Pittsburg lasted almost three hours.

W. G. Lee, president of the Trainmen's Union, said upon leaving the Pennsylvania Railroad building:

"Several apparent outside standings have been cleared up. [illegible] won't say whether concessions have been made, but our sub-committee will probably meet Mr. Meyers this afternoon or tomorrow."

HOLLIDAYSBURG, Pa., July 18.—The Pennsylvania Railroad Company is providing in Blair county as if the strike had already been declared. The sheriff was today requested to swear in 600 special policemen in addition to the 200 special deputies asked for Saturday to protect the railroad property.

According to [illegible] between Shurtleff and Burnham no contracts were to be signed for advertisements until August 5. Burnham has not issued a statement as to his position in the matter.

The Carlists and Republicans are now holding opposition meetings and the situation is complicated by threats of workmen's organizations to call a general strike.

CRIPPEN MAY BE ON BOARD LINER DUE IN N. Y

DETECTIVES IN GOTHAM READY TO MEET SHIP

Throngs in London View House Where Remains of Woman Were Dug From Cellar.

LONDON, July 18.—The latest theory of the Scotland Yard officials is that Dr. Hawley H. Crippen and Ethel Claire Leneve may be on board the steamer Kroonland, which sailed for New York from Dover at 11 o'clock on the night of July 9, the day the two disappeared. The steamer is due at quarantine, New York, before 12 o'clock tomorrow night.

The inquest into the death of the woman supposed to be Belle Elmore, Crippen's wife, whose body was unearthed in the cellar of the Crippen home following the doctor's disappearance, was opened today and subsequently adjourned for one month. It developed nothing at the first session.

INTEREST IN INQUEST

Interest in the mysterious murder centered today in the inquest, at which it had been hoped the physicians would be prepared to describe the manner of death and possibly make positive the identification of the dismembered body. However, the medical evidence adduced added nothing material to what was already generally known.

It was decided to postpone the conclusion of the inquest for a month in order to give Dr. Pepper, examining surgeon at the Royal Army Medical College, opportunity to make a complete examination of the piece of flesh, and the police to continue the search for Crippen and Miss Leneve.

Paul Nash, theatrical manager, who first brought the matter to the attention of Scotland Yard on his return here from the United States, was one of the more important witnesses.

CRIPPEN'S STORIES FALSE

Nash said that at the request of friends in America he took up the matter of the actress' death and interviewed Dr. Crippen. The doctor, he said, was unable to give the exact place in California where Belle Elmore died, though he previously announced that his wife died in that State. Neither could Crippen, according to the witness, produce a certificate of death, though he said he had his wife's [illegible] in his safe.

Inspector Dew of Scotland Yard was called. He said he first visited Ethel Leneve at the Crippen residence. The woman on that occasion told him she was Crippen's housekeeper. Later the inspector went to Crippen's office and had a talk with the doctor.

ADMITS STORIES UNTRUE.

At this time the witness said the doctor admitted that all of the stories which he had previously told of his wife's death were untrue. He said he had quarreled with Mrs. Crippen on the night of January 31 last, and that following the quarrel she had left him, saying she intended to join a man who the doctor said he believed lived in Chicago.

With the body the witness said he found a piece of string and a man's handkerchief that might have been used to strangle the victim.

The witness said he had not heard a word from Crippen or Ethel Leneve since July 9, when the left the Crippen house. On that day they sent a note to the servant saying:

Questioned in detail as to finding of the body, Inspector Dew said in the first of his examinations of the house he found loose brick in the basement floor. He removed the bricks and dug into the earth beneath.

At a depth of two feet he uncovered the mass of human flesh. The largest piece was less than twelve inches long. Not a bone was discovered.

NO BONES FOUND

Not a bone was found. The head, feet and hands were missing. Quicklime covered the gruesome object.

In one room of the house he found a fully loaded five chamber revolver.

Dr. Thomas Marshall, one of the surgeons who performed the post-mortem, testified he had not been able to find a trace of the bones and could not swear on anatomical grounds whether the flesh was that of a male or female.

Mrs. Paul Martinetti, who with her husband dined with the Crippens on the evening of January 31 and later played cards with them until 1:30 o'clock in the morning, was another witness. She said Dr. Crippen and his wife seemed to be perfectly happy.

Prof. Pepper, who is the home office expert, did not give his testimony as had been expected, for he is unable as yet to state definitely either

AUTOMOBILE VICTIM IS DEAD IN HOSPITAL

He Was Run Down Saturday Evening by Reckless Driver, Who Hurried Away Without Offering Aid to Injured Man

SAN LEANDRO, July 18.—Christian Grazino, the Italian who was run down by an unknown automobile at about 10 o'clock last Saturday night, died at the County Hospital this morning. Grazino was suffering from a fractured skull, a broken collar bone and his legs and arms were terribly mangled. The man was riding on a bicycle from San Leandro toward Elmhurst when a machine going at a high rate of speed approached him near the San Leandro bridge.

A man, woman and three children were in the car, which was on the left side of the road and bore down upon Grazino before he noticed it. He was ground down [illegible] the wheels and the autoists immediately turned around and retraced their drive toward Oakland, paying no attention to the injured man. Grazino was picked up by pedestrians and cared for by Dr. Charles Culran of San Leandro, and later was taken to the county hospital.

The police were immediately notified of the accident and patrolmen watched all of the roads leading from San Leandro to Oakland, but have as yet failed to locate the speed fiends. The machine was a red Maxwell touring car. Bystanders were unable to discern the number, the tail light being extinguished by the drivers as soon as the accident occurred. There is no clew to the identity of the occupants.

CHICAGO, July 18.—A joy ride in a stolen automobile ended disastrously yesterday for a half dozen men and women when the machine ran into a bridge crossing a branch of the drainage canal at Thirty-first street and Marshall boulevard.

A second automobile following the first is believed to have taken the injured from the scene of the accident to a place where medical assistance could be given. No report was made to the police.

The machine, the property of John H. Quinlan of Evanston, was demolished, indicating that the occupants were riding at high speed when they swerved into the bridge. The machinery was tangled into a knot of twisted pipes and the wooden part of the tonneau was splintered into kindling wood.

There were no witnesses of the accident except the occupants of the two automobiles.

THREE SPEEDERS CAUGHT

BERKELEY, July 18.—By the simple device of pouncing upon speed burners at an unexpected point and by the use of the new motorcycle recently purchased for the local police department, three violators of the speed laws were arrested yesterday on San Pablo avenue. They all deposited bail for their appearance in court.

Hitherto the officers have stationed themselves at the intersection of University and San Pablo avenues, a transfer point for the street railway system and a dangerous place for excessive speed. Several arrests have been made at this point in the past and the motorists have learned to slow down to a moderate pace when passing, this staff only to increase their speed as they spin down the avenue toward the county line.

Yesterday the officers hid themselves at Camelia street, near the north boundary of the city. San Pablo avenue offers a tempting half mile of speedway along this section and there were several drivers who succumbed to the temptation. Short was their joy, however, as the mounted flying squad came suddenly from the side street and halted all.

Of the three speeders nabbed not one was a Berkeleyan. J. Leonard, a salesman of 3018 High street, Oakland, was the first victim. Charles Billings, a machinist of Point Richmond, was the second to fall into the hands of the officers and Oliver Nash of Oakland was the third.

Workman Severely Injured by Explosion of Dynamite in San Francisco.

STICK HAD APPEARANCE OF INFERNAL MACHINE

Was Made of Same Material Used in Making Receivers.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 18.—A terrific explosion [illegible] this afternoon in the basement of the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company at Thirteenth and Mission streets shook the building to its foundation, threw the employes into a state of panic and so badly mutilated the right hand of Chester C. White that it was necessary to amputate it at the wrist.

White, who is in charge of the supplies stored in the basement, went below a few minutes before the explosion occurred. He says that he found on a bench a little object that looked to him like a plumb bob and, picking it up, began to hammer it upon the wood with [illegible].

Suddenly [illegible] exploded with terrific force and the fragments tore his hand to pieces and struck him in the face, injuring it badly.

MYSTERY IN PRESENCE

Neither White nor any of the other employes in the structure are able to give any idea how the infernal machine got in the building.

Pieces of the bomb [illegible] gathered up give it the appearance of having been made of paper and of the same black material as that used in the manufacture of telephone transmitters and receivers.

Whoever made the bomb of this stuff must have exercised a great deal of ingenuity and patience because for the purposes of an infernal machine it was uniquely designed.

Detectives who are working on the case are investigating on the theory that some one, probably a disgruntled employe, placed the bomb in the basement out of revenge for imaginary or other wrongs.

Whether the intention was to blow up the building or take the life of Superintendent A. J. Sollitt [illegible] of the employes remains to be proved.

LAYING AROUND FOR WEEK

Sollitt declares that he has no idea how the bomb got into the building, and other employes say that it had lain around in the basement for more than a week before White made it [illegible] exploded.

Superintendent Sollitt scouts the idea of criminality, but admits that he is mystified over the whole incident.

TRAIN INJURES AUTOISTS

DENVER, July 18.—Two women and two men were injured, three of the women probably fatally, when an interurban car on the Denver and Interurban railroad struck an automobile one mile east of Eldorado Springs, 20 miles from here, yesterday.

The automobile with its occupants was pushed sideways 100 feet by the car, struck a trolley pole and was wrecked.

Because of a string of empty cars on a siding the occupants of the automobile were unable to see the interurban car approaching on a down grade at high speed. A special car brought the victims to Denver.

While Charles W. Gallagher of [illegible] Vernon street was sitting in an Oakland theater Saturday night with his family, joy riders appropriated his new automobile, which he had left standing at Ninth and Clay streets, and it was not until late yesterday afternoon that an Oakland garage succeeded in locating the stolen machine in Fruitvale.

Gallagher, who is a member of the firm of [illegible] & Gallagher, had taken his wife and three children to the theater, and as he was acting as his own chauffeur left the machine standing outside during the performance. When he came out to take his party home the car was gone. Gallagher at once reported his loss to the police.

WOMAN SAVES A SLEEPING MAN FROM FLAMES

LOSS OF $11,000 IS CAUSED BY THE BLAZE

Two Nearly Lose Lives While Fighting to Gain Street From House.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 18.—By displaying great heroism Mrs. William Eastman of 290 Tremont avenue probably saved John Barnes from being burned to death early this morning in an $11,000 fire which destroyed the home of his brother, William Barnes, at 295 Tremont avenue.

The timely warning given by the woman also prevented the flames from spreading to adjacent residences. At the time of the fire William Barnes and his family were in Burlingame. John Barnes was sleeping on the second floor of the house simply to watch the premises.

GOES THROUGH FLAMES

Mrs. Eastman was aroused at 3 o'clock and saw the house in flames. Knowing that John Barnes was sleeping there and fearing that he might have been overcome, she rushed into the burning building and groped her way through the smoke-filled rooms until she reached the apartment he occupied.

She found him in bed almost overcome by smoke. It required repeated shaking to arouse him sufficiently to get him out of the house. By this time the residence was burning fiercely and both Mrs. Eastman and Barnes had great difficulty in getting to the street without being overcome and burned to death.

From the Barnes residence the flames spread to the Eastman home. A strong wind was blowing and the roofs of several houses in the neighborhood caught fire, but the firemen extinguished them before they had gained much headway.

The Barnes house was totally destroyed, the damage amounting to about $5000. Several valuable oil paintings owned by Barnes were also lost. The Eastman residence was almost entirely destroyed, the loss being about $5000, and the home of Policeman J. J. Rooney was damaged to the extent of about $1000.

BALLINGER EXONERATED BY MAJORITY REPORT OF CONGRESSIONAL BOARD

Secretary of Interior Shown Blameless After Lengthy Investigation Into the Charges by Glavis and Pinchot

KANSAS CITY, Mo., July 18.—Representative E. H. Madison, a member of the Joint Congressional Commission, in a message today to the Associated Press from his home in Dodge City, Kas., declared that no conclusions had been reached in the investigation affecting Secretary R. Ballinger.

Madison's message follows:

The committee meets at Minneapolis September 5 to make its findings and conclusions. No conclusions can be reached or announced until after that meeting. All reports or rumors as to the findings of the members of the committee are unauthorized.

The message from Madison was made in response to one calling the representative's attention to a story published throughout the country this morning.

This story stated that Secretary Ballinger would be exonerated by a majority report of the joint committee; that a minority report also would be returned; that in addition Representative Madison had written his own opinion but that he would also sign the minority report.

WASHINGTON, July 18.—Richard A. Ballinger is a wholly honest, conservative official, entirely qualified to discharge the duties of the secretary of the interior and wholly faithful and interested with the interests of the people of the United States.

This sums up the findings of the majority of the joint congressional committee which for [illegible] months has been making an exhaustive [illegible] of the entire department of the interior and [illegible] of the bureau of forestry of the department of agriculture.

CONDEMNATION FOR PINCHOT

These findings constitute a condemnation of the course of Gifford Pinchot, former chief forester; James R. Garfield, former secretary of the interior, and Louis R. Glavis, former chief of a field division of the general land office.

Following was the inquiry board:

SENATOR KNUTE NELSON, Minnesota, chairman.
SENATOR FRANK P. FLINT, California.
SENATOR GEORGE SUTHERLAND, Utah.
SENATOR ELIHU ROOT, New York.
REPRESENTATIVE SAMUEL W. McCALL, Massachusetts, vice chairman.
REPRESENTATIVE EDWIN DENBY, Michigan.
REPRESENTATIVE MARLIN E. OLMSTED, Pennsylvania.

It [illegible] findings will be signed [illegible] the following:

REPRESENTATIVE MADISON, Kansas.
SENATOR W. E. PURCELL, North Dakota.
SENATOR D. U. FLETCHER, Florida.
REPRESENTATIVE OLLIE M. JAMES, Kentucky.
REPRESENTATIVE J. M. GRAHAM, Illinois.

MEMBERS DRAFT REPORTS

Since the adjournment of Congress the members of the [illegible] committee have been drafting reports [illegible] opinions in the famous case.

The basis of the report for the majority was prepared by Senator Nelson and [illegible] the minority by Representative James, Madison writing his own opinion. It is understood that the result of the labors of Nelson and James have been submitted to the members of the committee for criticism and for additions. By the time the committee reassembles September 10 it will have in practically final shape the reports which it will make.

It is intended to give them to the press without delay in order that the charge shall not be offered that the Republican party deliberately suppressed the findings because of the effect upon the impending congressional campaign.

DECISION NOT SURPRISING

The report of the majority will be what the friends of Gifford Pinchot have expected for some months. It will be found to be a long resume of the testimony of numerous witnesses and deductions therefrom.

The majority report will declare:

That Ballinger acted entirely within the record and displayed proper judgment in his attitude with respect to the Cunningham coal claims.

That Ballinger was justified in his criticism of the reclamation service.

That nothing has developed to prove any monopoly or improper granting of water power sites.

That Ballinger was justified in abandoning the policy of Garfield expressed in a co-operative agreement whereby absolute control, management and direction of certain employes in the Indian service were given over to the forestry bureau of the department of agriculture.

ANSWERS FOR INQUISITORS

It will be in this way that the majority of the committee will answer these two questions which counsel for Glavis and Pinchot inserted in their brief:

Have the conduct and associations of Ballinger been such, are his character and conceptions such that he may be safely continued as trustee of our public domain, the manager of the reclamation and other services, the administration of which will so largely determine the welfare of the present and of the future generations of Americans?

Is Ballinger a man single minded, enlightened, so zealously devoted to the interest of the common people, so vigilant and resolute in resisting the insidious aggression of the special interests that to him may be safely intrusted the carrying forward of the [illegible] policy of conservation of our natural resources?

The answer of the majority of the committee to these two questions may be phrased in two words:

"He is."

The answer of Madison and the Democrats will be:

"He is not."

DEMOCRATS WITH MADISON

From all that can be learned, Congressman Madison and the Democrats will take the view that Ballinger is an unfit trustee of the interests of the people and acted improperly with reference to the Cunningham claims and the other matters.

Concerning Ballinger's conduct from the time he resigned the office of commissioner of the general land office until he took his place as member of President Taft's cabinet, the majority of the committee will hold that he was entirely justified in what he did and that the public interest did not suffer thereby.

[illegible] the committee with respect to the Cunningham claims. Every member of the committee recognizes the importance of the proper and effective conservation of the great mineral resources of Alaska.

The coal fields of that territory are particularly valuable and [illegible] among the earliest prospectors [illegible] the mining rights therein were those who figured in the controversy as belonging to the Cunningham group.

HE HAD NO INTEREST

With respect to those claims the majority of the committee may be expected to report that Ballinger had no interest in them and that he did nothing that could be construed as wrong in order to bring about the issuance of patents for 5280 acres of coal lands which the claims covered. The charges of Glavis that Ballinger stopped the investigation of the Cunningham coal claims will be declared to be without foundation.

In a word there will be no comfort in the majority report for Glavis, Pinchot, Garfield, Newel, head of the reclamation service, or for any of the men who have stood by them. Their conduct will be condemned by inference if not by specification. There is no intention to make the report a passionate denunciation of the assailants of Secretary Ballinger. It is realized that anything of this kind would defeat the end desired—the absolute vindication of the secretary and the administration which has stood behind him.

The reports of Madison and the Democrats are expected to take a contrary view, holding that Ballinger acted improperly with respect to the Cunningham claims; that he was not justified in his criticism of the reclamation service and that his policy with respect to the water power sites was not in the public interest.

DEFENSE FOR MAJORITY

The administration and the regular Republicans will insist that these views are prompted by partisan politics; that Madison is an insurgent Republican and that the Democrats are attempting to make capital for use in the coming campaign. The obvious [illegible] to this is a counter charge that like considerations influenced the majority.

An interesting question will arise when the reports are made public: Will Secretary Ballinger remain in office or not? The secretary has insisted that he has no intention of resigning. He has even gone so far as to say that he will remain in office throughout the present administration. It is altogether likely, however, that before many months have passed there will be a new secretary of the interior in spite of the result of the congressional investigation. Another interesting question is: What effect will the expected vindication have upon the November elections?

CITY BREAKS LAW, U. R. R. DECLARES

that if the Geary street line is permitted to operate it will divert from the United Railroads a large patronage that is now and would in the future otherwise be enjoyed by the plaintiff corporation.

The United Railroads also states that unless the city is restrained it will proceed to construct and operate a street railway which would be in direct violation of certain sections of the constitution of the United States and will greatly depreciate in value United Railroads property, decrease the value of its bonds and impair the obligation of its contract entered into by the State of California under its articles of incorporation and the charter through which it operates.

WITHOUT DUE PROCESS

The plaintiff corporation also charges that the local government will be taking possession of the property of the United Railroads without due process of law in view of the fact that the United Railroads and subsidiary companies acquired their franchises and accepted their terms and conditions in good faith. It is also stated that the city and county of San Francisco is seeking to impair the United Railroads contract with each of its subsidiary companies by becoming a competitor in the transportation business and that when the United Railroads accepted the rights, privileges and franchises [illegible] it relied on the [illegible] of the city and county of San Francisco and the State of California that not more than two lines of railway would be permitted to be used on the same street for a distance of more than five blocks and particularly on Market street from Geary to the ferry.

[illegible] the United Railroads took over all of these contracts firm in the belief that the city and county government would not itself become a competitor in the railway business along any of the streets named in the franchises.

The plaintiff corporation says that if it had known that the municipality contemplated going into the transportation business it never would have invested its money in the large interests it controls.

DISTINGUISHED MEN ATTEND LUTHERAN CHURCH SYNOD

Professor A. W. Meyer of St. John's Lutheran college of Winfield, Kansas, is one of the visitors who attended the district synod convention of the German Lutheran church which is now in session in Zion's German Lutheran Church, Twelfth and Myrtle streets, where the conclave was inaugurated last Wednesday evening and will be brought to a close Wednesday after a series of successful meetings.

The visitor will share the honors during his sojourn in this city with Rev. J. Strasser of Milwaukee, general vice president of the synod of Missouri, Ohio and other States, who is also a guest of the synod.

The ministers and laity assembled in business session at [illegible] this morning, [illegible] which was called to order by Rev. George Bernthal of the German Lutheran Church of San Francisco. The matter of appointing a sub-committee on missionary affairs provoked much talk but up to the noon hour no committee was appointed.

Judge Forced to Have Courtroom Cleared When Sentence Is Pronounced.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 18.—Superior Judge Dunne this morning sentenced George Besser to serve twenty years in the penitentiary at San Quentin for the murder of Eleanor Ehler, better known as the Belle of Butchertown. The courtroom was crowded with friends of Besser when judgment was pronounced and the sentence created such a tumult in the courtroom that Judge Dunne was compelled to have the spectators driven out.

Besser collapsed in his chair as if hit by a bullet and it was over a minute before he was revived. The convicted man was granted a stay of execution of ten days on motion for a new trial made by attorneys.

the cause of death or the sex of the victim.

The reports from Dieppe, France, that the French police notified Scotland Yard that Dr. Crippen and Ethel Leneve arrived at Dieppe on July 1 and took a train for Paris are untrue.

Superintendent Froest of Scotland Yard, who has the case in hand, stated this evening that he had received absolutely no clew to the whereabouts of Crippen and his companion.

DISGUISED AS WOMAN

The latest theory in the Crippen case is that he is posing as a woman. Mrs. Adeline Harrison, a close acquaintance of Crippen, declares that he once dressed as a woman to amuse his friends.

Another theory is that Crippen has a confederate in London. A registered letter addressed to him at the Kings Way office apparently was signed for Friday.

Mrs. Benstead, an aunt of Miss Leneve, refuses to believe her niece had knowledge of the crime and believes Miss Leneve is being detained against her will.

The Daily Mirror's Paris correspondent says that Crippen and Miss Leneve arrived at Dieppe Friday and took a train to Paris.

Walter Leneve, father of the missing girl, has issued a pathetic appeal through the Daily Mail. He asks his daughter to return and give herself up to the authorities and assures her of his devotion and protection throughout her trouble. The father is certain the couple are somewhere in France and also believes Crippen is disguised as an old woman.

THRONGS VISIT HOUSE

The Hilldrop Crescent residence of Dr. Crippen, in the cellar of which the mutilated woman's body was found, was visited today by thousands of Londoners. All day long the house was the center of attraction for great crowds of curious interested in the digging operations of the police which have been renewed in the hope of finding some further clew to the crime.

Friends of Mrs. Crippen, known under the stage name of Belle Elmore, are convinced that the body which is now awaiting the coroner's inquest will prove to be that of the missing singer. The nature of the report of the physicians who have made an examination of the body has not been disclosed but it is announced that they are convinced from an examination of the dead woman's heart that she did not suffer from disease of that organ.

During the latter part of the week there has been a remarkable series of murders in London, Newcastle and Cromer, and in every case the murderer has escaped.

STEAMER IS SEARCHED

NEW YORK, July 18.—Detectives inspected the passengers on the steamer Minnetonka from London and Havre on their arrival today in pursuance of the search for Doctor Crippen, the American physician.

NOT ON HAVERFORD

PARIS, July 18.—The immigration officers failed to discover any person resembling Dr. Crippen on board the steamer Haverford, which docked here today.

EUROPEAN POLICE ON ALERT

PARIS, July 18.—M. Lepine, Prefect of Police, issued instructions today to the police to watch for Dr. Hawley H. Crippen, the American who is wanted in London on the charge of having slain his wife, known in the theatrical world as Belle Elmore.

The French search for the fugitive has taken an original turn.

The police here believe that Crippen is masquerading as a woman and the descriptions sent out include this probable disguise.

The authorities of Dieppe, Calais, Cherbourg and other coast towns have been warned especially to be on the alert, as it is thought quite likely [illegible] in this country he will take advantage of the first opportunity to enter a port on the continent.

The police are also learning what they can of the suspect's visits to France in recent years and also what is known regarding his supposed companion, Ethel Claire Leneve, who was employed by him as stenographer and later, according to the British police, supplanted Mrs. Crippen in the affections of the husband.

COUNTY ROADS TAKE UP TIME OF THE SUPERVISORS

Protests to Abandonment of Old Trail; Proposed Paving Work and Minor Matters Discussed at Meeting

"There is a good road there now. The accident was the result of the carelessness of the driver."

This was the manner in which Chairman Horner of the Board of Supervisors this morning dismissed reference to a fatal automobile accident which took place a few weeks ago near Altamont. The reference was made by Sheriff Veale of Contra Costa county in a communication in which he called the attention of the Board to a piece of road between the mountain house and Altamont where an automobile accident resulted in the death of a child.

He said the spot could be repaired at slight expense and asked the supervisors to take action in the matter.

It was then that Supervisor Horner made the remark quoted and the communication was filed.

PROTESTS ABANDONMENT

William Crosby of Livermore wrote a personal protest against the abandonment wholly or in part of the county road from Arroyo de Mocho to the Arroyo Valle, about which abandonment a rumor has been in circulation.

"I strongly object," wrote Crosby, "to the road's being abandoned. While it has been out of repair for a long time it is still useful for horseback travelers and is the only means of communication that dwellers in those parts have with a large tract of country which we often wish to visit without going over private lands or making a long detour. Before action is taken by the board, I hope to be heard in the matter."

"This is all premature," said Supervisor Horner. "There is no present purpose of abandoning any road up there."

S. S. Jones of the San Francisco Bridge Company asked for an opportunity to bid upon the work for the repairing of the Webster street bridge. Filed.

UNDERGROUND SYSTEM

The Wittman Lyman Company of San Francisco in a communication offered to install an underground electric light service at the county hall comprising three wires of 220 volts on outside lines for lighting and 500 volts service for power for $416. The matter was referred to the building committee.

Purchasing Agent McLaren reported that he had made purchases during the month of May amounting to $[illegible] 89 and during June of $6,791.26. Filed.

The indigent clerk was authorized to furnish transportation to Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Barak to Canyon City, Cal., who reside at Fifteenth and Clay streets, who otherwise would become a charge on the county.

County funds were apportioned as follows among the district road funds: General, $310.[illegible]; Altamont, $13.18; Alvarado, $76.81; Brooklyn, $226.07; Castro Valley, $3[illegible].70; Centerville, $58.27; Claremont, $[illegible].31; Decoto, $18.[illegible]; Irvington, $[illegible].19; Fruitvale, $16[illegible].73; Livermore, $[illegible]8.[illegible]; Mission, $60.9[illegible]; Mt. Eden, $76.80; Murray, $59.3[illegible]; Newark, $42.24; Niles, $68.1[illegible]; Ocean View, $2[illegible].06; Palomares, $1[illegible].4[illegible]; Piedmont, $[illegible]3.63; Pleasanton, $116.9[illegible]; San Lorenzo, $1[illegible]2.77; Vallecitos, $81.[illegible]; Warm Springs, $23.64.

PLUMBING REPAIRS

The building committee was instructed to make plumbing repairs in the County Detention Home in this city at a cost of $190.

C[illegible] & Co., representing the Hassam Paving Company, informed the board that they had proposed to the city of Oakland to pave with Hassam pavement a block on Washington street between Fourth and Fifth streets with the understanding that the city shall pay one-half the cost. They desired to enter into a contract with the county for the paving of the east half of the street between Fourth and Fifth streets at the following prices: Grading per square foot, [illegible] cents; Hassam pavement per square foot, 22 cents; resetting granite curb and laying 4-inch concrete base and 4-inch concrete back wall for the same per lineal foot, 3[illegible] cents.

Supervisor Foss spoke in favor of the pavement. He said that asphaltum in foggy weather was slippery and in hot weather it was like climbing a hill to drive through it.

County Surveyor Haviland spoke in favor of asphaltum, claiming that it was superior to the pavement offered, and referred to the sample of the latter on the road to Alameda.

It was stated, however, by others that the pavement had not been put down right.

Bridge said that so long as the city of Oakland was going to use the Hassam pavement on the west side of the street he would be in favor of the county using the same material in paving the east side of the thoroughfare.

Mullins said if the city was to use the Hassam on its side of the street he would favor the same material for the county street frontage.

HORNER SATISFIED

Supervisor Horner said he knew that the new pavement was an excellent one and he was satisfied to have it used.

Charles H. Butler, representing the firm making the proposition, was called to the floor and stated that if the county would pave its part of the street the council would pave the west side of the block. In answer to a question by Supervisor Mullin, Mr. Butler said the council would consider the proposition tonight.

The matter was then continued until Wednesday next, when the Supervisors will meet again.

Bids for the construction of a roadway on Kelley street from a point 1000 feet northwesterly from intersection with the main county road between Hayward and Dublin will be opened August 8. The work will require the excavation of 1940 cubic yards of earth. Extra excavation is to be paid for at the rate of 60 cents per cubic yard.

Stephenson & Hoard, contractors, were allowed $8[illegible] as part payment for work on a concrete bridge on which they are now engaged.

Adjournment to Wednesday morning next.

Wealthy Contractor May Have Been Slain

Body Found Floating in Harbor and Large Sum of Money Is Missing

NEW YORK, July 18.—Detectives today are trying to trace the movements after his arrival here from Youngstown, O., of a man believed to be J. W. Horton, a well to do contractor of that city, whose body was found floating in the harbor yesterday. Report that he had a considerable sum of money in his possession when he reached this city led to suspicion that he may have been the victim of foul play.

The only fact certainly known about Horton's movements after his arrival here was that he visited the offices of the White Star Line and engaged a stateroom which he intended to occupy on the steamer Majestic, sailing Wednesday for Southampton.

HAD LARGE SUM OF MONEY

YOUNGSTOWN, O., July 18.—John W. Horton was a well known contractor here and left last Friday night for a visit to his old home in New England. Horton's family had recently come into a legacy through the death of a relative and Horton decided to spend part of the money on a trip to Europe. He had sufficient funds in his possession when leaving here to defray his expenses on a two month trip.

MERCHANT IS ON TRIAL FOR MURDER OF HIS WIFE

Accused of Throwing Gasoline on Woman and Setting Match to Her.

SANTA ANA, July 18.—Frank M. Skelly, lumber merchant, contractor and prominent lodgeman of Westminster, was placed on trial in the superior court here for the murder of his wife in May of this year. It is believed that the selection of a jury will occupy several days.

Skelly was accused by his wife on her death bed of having sought her death by a horrible method. According to the testimony of the mother of the murdered woman at the coroner's inquest, Skelly met his wife on the morning of May 6 as she entered the kitchen to prepare breakfast.

He carried a bottle of gasoline, and as soon as Mrs. Skelly was within reach, according to the witness, he dashed the gasoline upon her and then applied a match. This was the story the dying wife told to her mother, at the same time imploring her to keep it secret for the sake of her children.

Several neighbors testified at the inquest that Mrs. Skelly had run into the yard with her clothing and hair ablaze, and while efforts were being made to extinguish the flames, she upbraided her husband, exclaiming:

"Oh, Frank, how could you do it? Why did not you shoot me instead of taking this horrible way?"

Skelly testified at the inquest that his wife had been burned as the result of the explosion of a gasoline stove. He was himself terribly burned in the effort to extinguish the flames that enveloped her, and spent several weeks in a hospital.

COUNTY TO HAVE NEW BOULEVARD

Thoroughfare From Castro Valley Junction to Hayward Almost Ready.

Within a short time, all the way from the Castro Valley junction with the Hayward road to the limits of that city there will be in use a boulevard, ninety feet in width, which will be kept in the same excellent manner as is the boulevard of the foothills, rendering the stretch one of the most pleasant drives among the many excellent ones in Alameda county.

This was decided upon at the meeting of the Board of Supervisors this morning, all the members, Supervisors Horner, Mullins, Foss and Bridge, voting in favor of the project, the only supervisor who was not in attendance being Supervisor Kelley, absent on account of indisposition.

This announcement will be all the more appreciated when it is stated that the improvement will cost the county only about $7400. This sum will be expended in doubling the width of the bridge which now spans San Lorenzo creek at that point to conform with the width of the increased roadway.

At the present time, the concrete arch bridge which spans the creek at that place has between the parapet on either side a width of fifty feet, which is apportioned between the roadway and the sidewalk on either side. That is also about the width of the road and of course must necessarily be increased to the same width of the roadway when enlarged to prevent the congestion of vehicles at the bridge and thus prevent the occurrence of accident.

The widening of the road referred to is to give evidence of public spirit on the part of the property owners on the south side of the Hayward road who have generously deeded forty feet of their lands along the thoroughfare for the purpose of forming the 1ot line on the southern side of the road. These donors are the Lewellyn and Meek families, and there is no person in that vicinity or those in any other locality who have to use the thoroughfare in question who does not appreciate the spirit referred to and the liberality which accompanies it.

Statements to this effect were made by Supervisors Mullins and Bridge, and bids were immediately ordered for the construction of the concrete bridge in question, and these bids will be opened on Monday, August 8.

A SIMPLE QUESTION

Oakland People Are Requested to Honestly Answer This.

Is not the word of a representative citizen of Oakland more convincing than the doubtful utterances of people living everywhere else in the union? Read this:

J. J. Waugan, 753 Market street, Oakland, Cal., says: "I owe a great deal to Doan's Kidney Pills, for they cured me of kidney complaint. My back pained me intensely and I was in misery both day and night. The kidney secretions were disordered and I was subject to headaches and attacks of dizziness. My condition grew worse as time passed and there seemed to be no help for me. At last it was my good fortune to read about Doan's Kidney Pills and believing it worth while to try them, I obtained a box. In a short time after beginning their use, I could see their beneficial effect, and I continued to improve until my back was strong and free from pain. I give Doan's Kidney Pills the entire credit of my cure, as they were the only medicine I used. During the past two years not a symptom of my former complaint has returned. I have told a number of my friends and fellow workmen what Doan's Kidney Pills did for me and I have recommended them at every opportunity."

CONSPIRACY TO BECLOUD LAND TITLES BY JUMPING CLAIMS ALLEGED IN STORY

Fatal Lake Searles Automobile Party and California Trona Company Mentioned in Strange Tale

The tragedy of Searles lake, Mojave desert, in which a young Berkeley mining engineer's life was sacrificed to thirst and heat, and his seven companions narrowly escaped experiencing the same fate, has been made the basis of a mining story which, as it runs, involves conspiracy and duplicity and an effort to override the action of a Federal court and cloud the possessory title of valuable mineral saltlands.

As the story goes, the California Trona Company is the holder of mineral land locations covering the floor of Searles lake, a partially mud lake located in the heart of the Mojave desert. In the course of its operations the Trona Company became financially responsible to the Foreign Mines Development Company, a British corporation, which obtained as security a mortgage on the property. Through this mortgage the two corporations have become involved in litigation in the United States District Court, and Judge Van Fleet placed the property in the hands of a receiver, S. W. Austin, pending the final disposition of the suit.

COMPLICATION ENTERS.

Meantime, another complication entered into the affairs of the two corporations through the granting of an option by the California Trona Company to Colonel E. H. Merrill, a Standard Oil magnate and mining operator, which gave him the right to purchase. C. E. Dolbear and E. H. Bartholomew, both residents of Oakland, the former manager and the latter a director of the Trona company, and the law firm of Fitzgerald & Abbott, attorneys for United States Receiver Austin, figuring the subsequent events interwomen in the story.

These were the conditions of the Trona Company's properties and the relations of the persons named up to June 17, when R. H. Countryman, a San Francisco attorney, associate counsel of the Trona Company, was visited by Mr. Dolbear and Mr. Bartholomew and a third person, whose identity had not then been revealed, and, in the interview which followed the latter represented that he had received word in Bakersfield that a party of eight men had left that city with the intention of making mineral land locations on the lands of the California Trona Company.

DAVIDSON MENTIONED.

These men are represented to be Charles S. Davidson, the young mining engineer whose tragic death occurred in the Searles lake bottom; Norman Stines, David Bunker, Thomas Graves, G. Herbert Masters, Richard S. Badger, J. P. Baudin R. R. Bray and H. Lawrence, who left Berkeley on June 13 in an automobile bound for Searles lake, on what was publicly announced at the time as a surveying expedition. The statement made by the stranger at the interview with Attorney Countryman is said to have been that the real purpose of the expedition was to jump the lands of the California Trona Company lying in the semi-dry bed of Searles lake. Mr. Countryman states that he immediately communicated with Colonel E. H. Merrill, the holder of the option to purchase, and with Fitzgerald & Abbott, the attorneys of the United States receiver, telling them of the information he had obtained and requested the attorneys to at once wire the receiver and ask him to eject the party.

ADVISES SLACK.

On the following day he also sent a letter to Judge Slack, the attorney for the mortgage, the Foreign Mines Development Company, advising him of the situation and asking him to intervene with the receiver.

On the afternoon of July 17, a telegram was sent by Manager C. E. Dolbear to S. H. Dolbear at Johannesburg, Kern county, warning him of the object of the automobile party and directing him to notify the receiver to guard the claims prevent location and keep off trespassers in defense of the two corporations interested, and advising him that the receiver's attorneys had already wired the receiver at Searles. "Act quickly" was the imperative order transmitted.

Not only had Attorney Carl Abbott promptly acted on the warning given him by wiring the receiver instructions to defend the property and notify anyone attempting to jump it that they would be in contempt of the United States District Court, and an interference with its jurisdiction, as it had control of the mineral land in question; but Judge Slack also telegraphed a similar warning to the receiver at Searles.

HEARS OF DEATH.

"On June 20," says Mr. Countryman, "I received a 'phone message from Mr. Abbott, stating that one of the party had died and that the remaining members of the party had agreed to surrender any rights they had to the California Trona Company."

A later and still more sensational turn to the alleged relations of Dolbear, Merrill and Bartholomew to the so-called mineral land jumping expedition from Berkeley, was given by a man named Hutchinson, who visited the office of Col. E. H. Merrill, saying that he was a representative of the Examiner and the United Press, and claimed to have been told that the Davidson party had been sent out through the instigation of C. E. Dolbear and that he proposed selling the story to any newspaper that would accept it. Being informed that the Examiner had been asked by phone if any such man was connected with that paper and that it had been emphatically disclaimed, he then represented that he was a "free lance," "which carried the intimation," said Mr. Bartholomew today, who was present at the interview, "that it was for sale to us, if we wanted to suppress it. Nobody paid any attention to the suggestion, however, hence the appearance of the published statement conveying the insinuation that we had entered into a conspiracy with the jumping party to lay a cloud on the title of property which we were then and are now negotiating to sell.

APPEARS RIDICULOUS.

"Of course, the very suggestion of such a conspiracy, I submit," said Mr. Bartholomew in an interview this morning, "must, on the very face of it, appear ridiculous to any one who will give the matter a moment's thought. What earthly object could we have in attempting to cloud the title to a property which we were negotiating to sell?

"Our entire knowledge of the Davidson party and its object came to us in the most unexpected manner," said Mr. Bartholomew.

"On the morning of June 17, I was called up by phone at my home by some person who told me that he had some very important information to communicate relating to the Searles Lake property and he wanted to know who was the proper party to see. I asked him in what way it related to the property and he replied to titles. Then I said, 'If it relates to the titles of the California Trona Company I was the right man to talk to. I, thereupon, arranged for an immediate interview.

SECRET SERVICE AGENT.

"He represented that he was Secret Service Agent Brown and that he had just arrived on 'The Owl' from Bakersfield where he had fallen in with the Davidson automobile party and learned from them that they were going to Searles Lake to jump the claims of the California Trona Company. His professional instincts suggested to him, of course, that the company would be interested in getting a foreknowledge of their intentions so as to be able to an*ticipate and defeat them.*

EVERYBODY WARNED.

"We at once went across the bay to Colonel Merrill's office and put ourselves in communication with Attorney R. H. Countryman, who is associated with Merrill & Merrill as counsel, in the litigation pending between the California Trona and the Foreign Mines Development Company growing out of the mortgage, and in the negotiations for the sale of the property.

"As a result it was decided that all parties interested in the litigation, the agents of the Trona Company at Johannesburg, the attorneys of the United States Receiver in Oakland, the attorney of the mortgages corporation and the Receiver himself should be at once warned of the plans of the party so that action should be taken to defeat them.

"On the evening of the same day, C. E. Dolbear and Secret Service Agent Brown started south also. In the meantime Mr. Dolbear's brother had left Johannesburg in an auto to follow the Davidson automobile party, and arrived on the scene in time to rescue the survivors. C. E. Dolbear and Secret Service Agent Brown left Bakersfield in an auto for the scene of the jumping and met on the way the auto carrying the survivors of the party coming out of the desert.

LEARN WHAT WAS DONE.

"Brown took his place with the returning automobile, with instructions to learn all he could of what the party had done, and Mr. Dolbear pushed on his way to Searles Lake.

"At Bakersfield, Brown telegraphed me when he would return and asked me to meet him at the ferry landing which I did. When he arrived there he was accompanied by G. Herbert Masters, one of the survivors, and we went together direct to the office of Colonel Merrill. The fact that I did meet them is now being used to fortify the ridiculous assumption that I was one of those who financed the Davidson party. Who did finance it, I have no more knowledge than you have. And I can most positively assert that Colonel Merrill did not.

"Masters has since stated in an interview that he recently visited Colonel Merrill's office to protest against the reflection on him and on his associates in the expedition to the effect that they were jumpers and intimates that because I met him and Brown at the ferry landing and took him along to Colonel Merrill's office where he was interrogated about the trip to Searles Lake that I was a party to the expedition.

MEMBERS ADMITTED.

"I was also present at latter interview and when Masters stated that they were not jumpers I told him there and then, that members of his party had admitted to Brown that the expedition was gotten up expressly to jump the ground of the California Trona Company.

"Colonel Merrill, that, inasmuch as the purpose of the jumpers had failed that feature be dropped, and that inasmuch as a tragedy had marked its course, the whole matter should be dropped out of respect and sympathy for the widow of the dead engineer. And when the suggestion was made by Masters regarding the insurance on the dead engineer, Colonel Merrill volunteered to personally endeavor to get his cousin, who is at the head of a large New York insurance company, to use his influence to secure for the widow the whole amount of the insurance in the policy. That is all there is to it."

LETTER EXPLAINS.

Following is a letter on the subject from Attorney R. H. Countryman:

"EDITOR THE TRIBUNE: A Mr. T. K. Hutchinson called Saturday morning to see Colonel E. H. Merrill about the properties of the California Trona Company in San Bernardino and Inyo counties in this State. These properties are held under placer locations and are mortgaged to the Foreign Mines Development Company, a British corporation. There is litigation pending between the mortgagor and mortgagee and a Mr. S. W. Austin was appointed receiver by Judge Van Fleet, United States District Judge. Mr. Hutchinson stated that he represented the San Francisco "Examiner" and the United Press. Subsequently, upon being told that we had phoned to the "Examiner to ascertain if such a man was connected with that paper, he stated that he was a 'free lance.'

"In June, 1910, a party of men, headed by a Mr. Davidson, attempted to jump this property, with the result that Mr. Davidson died from exposure on the desert. Mr. C. E. Dolbear is the manager of the California Trona Company. Mr. S. H. Dolbear of Johannesburg is his brother. Colonel E. H. Merrill is the holder of an option to purchase the properties and has certain chemical experts out to ascertain its value.

TRIP INSTIGATED.

"Mr. Hutchinson claims that he was told that the Davidson party had been sent through the instigation of C. E. Dolbear and Colonel Merrill, and, in substance, that he proposed selling his story to any newspaper that would accept it and take the risk of a damage suit. I showed certain letters and telegrams and told Mr. Hutchinson the following facts:

"During the morning of June 17, 1910, I was engaged before Judge Troutt at the calling of his law and motion calendar. About 11 o'clock Mr. Dolbear, the manager, and Mr. Bartholomew, one of the directors of the California Trona Company, accompanied by a stranger, came to the courtroom of Judge Troutt, stating that Colonel Merrill had requested them to come to see me. I could only consider the matter incidentally at the time and told them that they would have to wait until the court adjourned. At the adjournment of court at nearly one o'clock we went to a restaurant. From these gentlemen I learned that this stranger lived in Bakersfield; that he had received word in Bakersfield that a party of eight men had left Bakersfield with the idea of making locations on the lands of the California Trona Company, and that he considered it his duty to advise the California Trona Company of the intention of this party to jump its lands. I have not given the name of this stranger because he may not desire his name disclosed and no opportunity has been given of requesting permission to use his name. I call him a 'stranger' because up to that morning none of these gentlemen had met him or knew of his existence. Thereupon I communicated with Colonel Merrill and we agreed to call up Messrs. Fitzgerald & Abbott, attorneys-at-law, of Oakland, who are attorneys for the receiver. I called these gentlemen up on the phone and told Mr. Abbott of the information that had been conveyed to us and asked him to immediately wire the Receiver and request the Receiver to eject the party. At the same time I tried to get Judge Slack on the phone and call his attention to the matter. Judge Slack is the attorney for the mortgagee.

TELEGRAM SENT.

That same afternoon the following telegram was sent:

"San Francisco, Cal., June 17, 1910.
"Mr. S. H. Dolbear,
"Johannesburg, California.

Party of eight, including a Mr. Davidson and Mr. Stine, is in transit in Stevens Duryea automobile from here via Bakersfield to jump claims at Searles Lake. Notify receiver to guard claims and prevent location and keep off trespassers, this in interest of both corporations. Suggest watching mouth of canyon. Receiver's attorney has sent wire to him at Searles. Act quickly.

"C. E. DOLBEAR,
"Manager California Trona Co."

"Upon receipt of this telegram Mr. S. H. Dolbear took an automobile and went out to the property and the next morning, June 18, 1910, he found the party on the desert and save the lives of all the men except Mr. Davidson, who had died about noon of Friday, June 17.

"On June 18 I wrote a letter to Judge Slack, reading as follows:

June 18, 1910.

Hon. Chas. W. Slack,
Kohl Building,
San Francisco, Cal.:

Dear Sir:—Yesterday Colonel Merrill received word that a party of eight persons had left Bakersfield in an automobile with the avowed intention of making locations on the property of the California Trona company, involved in the litigation with your client, The Foreign Mines Development company. I immediately phoned Mr. Abbott and he said he would wire the receiver, advising him of the situation and instructing him to protect the property. A telegram was also sent to Mr. S. H. Dolbear calling his attention to the matter.

I suggest that you communicate with the receiver, telling him to say to any person who attempts to go on to the property that the property is now in the hands of the United States circuit court for this district, and that any interference therewith, or attempt to disturb the receiver in his possession, would be contempt of court, and an interference with the jurisdiction of the federal courts having control of the property.

Yours very truly,
R. H. COUNTRYMAN.

WRITES LETTER.

"At the same time I wrote a letter to Messrs. Fitzgerald and Abbott, which reads as follows:

June 18, 1910.

Messrs. Fitzgerald & Abbott,
Oakland Bank of Savings Building,
Oakland, Cal.:

Gentlemen:—Referring again to my telephonic message of yesterday, concerning the property of the California Trona company, and asking you as the attorneys for the receiver to inform the receiver of the information concerning the attempt to interfere with the property, I take the liberty of sending you a letter I am having delivered to Judge Slack by messenger. Yours truly,

R. H. COUNTRYMAN.

"I received a reply from Judge Slack, reading as follows:

San Francisco, June 18, 1910.

R. H. Countryman, Esq.,
Attorney-at-Law,
663 Mills Building,
San Francisco, Cal.:

Dear Sir:—I beg to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of this date concerning information about intended adverse location on the property of the California Trona company.

Acting on the suggestion contained in your letter, I have just wired the receiver as follows:

Am informed that a party of eight left Bakersfield with intention of making locations on company's lands. Advise you to warn them from doing so, stating that property is in control of United States courts and that you are receiver thereof.

Thanking you for the information, I am, very truly yours,

CHARLES W. SLACK.

"On June 20 I received a phone message from Mr. Abbott, stating that one of the party had died and that the remaining members of the party had agreed to surrender any rights they had to the California Trona company.

STEPS TO PROTECT.

"The first information of the existence of this party received by either Mr. Dolbear or Colonel Merrill was on the morning of June 17, and the above telegrams and letters show they took immediate steps to protect the property of the company, acting not only through themselves but also enlisting the services of the receiver and of the mortgagee.

"Any statement to the contrary is unqualifiedly false. It is obvious that if either Colonel Merrill or Mr. Dolbear had been assisting this party, they would not have taken such prompt and vigorous methods to stop any locations and to have them regarded as trespassers.

"Again, as Mr. C. E. Dolbear is the manager of the property, and before the receiver was appointed, he lived there for many years, he would not have sent out a party to locate without providing them with the proper amount of water necessitated by the intense heat of the desert.

"Again, they have nothing to gain and everything to lose by any cloud on the title. Such cloud would interfere with the sale of the property by Colonel Merrill and would not help the California Trona company, because all of the stockholders of the California Trona company are liable for the amount of its obligations irrespective of the mortgage and attachment suits which are now pending against them in addition to the suit brought to foreclose mortgage.

"Again, the title to the property is perfect with the sole exception that the lands have not been patented and it would simply be adding to the expense and trouble of handling the property and of perfecting the title, to have the title clouded.

"I write this letter to prevent any injustice to the gentlemen concerned, and also to prevent the representatives of your newspaper from being misled into the publication of a falsehood.

"Yours respectfully,
"R. H. COUNTRYMAN."

Shot Dead Before Wife and Children

Young Son Chases Slayers and Secures Arrest of Two of the Men.

PITTSBURG, July 18. — While remonstrating with a group of foreigners who were fighting in front of his home in McKees Rocks during the night, Megro Motnars, 44 years of age, was shot dead by one of the men. Motnar's wife and five children witnessed the crime. His 11-year-old son Peter proved a hero by dashing after the foreigners and causing the arrest of two of them.

promises to be equally far reaching in its results, is brought forward in the showing that Mrs. Moore, regent of Sequoia chapter, San Francisco, by failing to send the credentials to the one delegate who was to have represented that branch at Washington until the sixth day session had already opened, played into the hands of the enemy.

OPEN OPPOSITION.

Mrs. Moore has been open in her opposition to Mrs. Laird's election for a third term from the first. Disappointed at the outcome of the first election, which gave the Berkeley representative so sweeping a majority, she is said to have called a second meeting, with little better results.

The State meeting, which, by the way, is the first ever held by the Daughters of the Revolution in California, though it is an annual event in most of the other states, was held on February 19. The Continental Congress at Washington, it is pointed out, did not convene on the other hand until April 19. At the State meeting Mrs. John B. Dahlgren, who resides in Washington, while still keeping up membership in Sequoia chapter, was appointed delegate, the second appointee being at that time in Europe. By a circumstance which will now be thoroughly investigated, her credentials advising her of this fact were not forwarded until such a time that they did not arrive, even under the rules of the special delivery service, until 9 o'clock on Monday evening.

USURPED PREROGATIVE.

Taking adantage of this fact, Mrs. Stone of Long Beach chapter is said to have brazenly usurped the prerogative of State Chairman Mrs. C. Elwood Brown of San Francisco, by calling a meeting of State delegates early in the evening. The State secretary, which office Mrs. Stone holds, is not recognized at Washington, and the method of procedure is declared to have been manifestly unfair.

Mrs. Brown, taking the floor, made a strong protest against the action, advising the southern delegation that through courtesy, if not under the bylaws, they should wait until the northern delegation arrived. Their action in refusing to do so is said to be without precedent in the history of the organization and is creating a wide stir.

FIFTH AD REVOLUTION.

RECEIVES CREDENTIALS.

Mrs. Dahlgren received her credentials at 9 o'clock Monday evening, after the State meeting, which could have been postponed until any time up to Friday evening, the time being optional with the representatives, had been held. This gave her no voice in the matter, and overwhelmed by the wholly unexpected disloyalty of the southern delegates in openly ignoring the sense of the State meeting which chose Mrs. Laird by so large a majority, the northerners found themselves completely routed.

The trouble has been simmering for several weeks past, the present investigation being the result of a desire on the part of a number of members of Sequoia chapter to probe the circumstances to the bottom. In her letter of protest addressed to Mrs. Amelia W. Truesdell, chairman of the investigating committee, which will be forwarded with other evidence to the national board, Mrs. Laird says:

MRS. LAIRD'S LETTER.

Berkeley, Cal., June 27, 1910

Mrs. Amelia W. Truesdell, Chairman Investigating Committee, Sequoia Chapter, D. A. R., San Francisco, California.

Dear Madam: In answer to your letter of June 21st, 1910, permit me to say that while I did not write the resolutions referred to, I am thoroughly in sympathy with them. It appears that these resolutions were introduced and passed at a regular meeting of Sequoia Chapter, therefore the responsibility rests on said chapter, rather than on any individual.

The wisdom of the investigation is justified by the evidence now being presented, wherein it is shown that one of Sequoia's delegates, Mrs. Dahlgren, was not notified of her election, and received her credentials too late to participate in the meeting of the State delegation at Washington. The other delegate from Sequoia Chapter, Miss Jones, was in Europe at the time of the Continental Congress. She stated before here election that she would be in Europe and could not attend the Continental Congress.

Therefore, I was deprived to the two votes of Sequoia Chapter, duly instructed for me by said chapter, which votes, if cast, would have given me a majority of the delegates assembled at the meeting of the California delegation at Washington, who would thereupon have recommended me for State regent. This action would have confirmed my election by the delegates from the California chapters, at their meeting held at the St. Francis Hotel, February 12th, 1910. This meeting was duly authorized by the national National Society.

"Resolved, that delegates may choose a State regent after February first, wherever and whenever they see fit, but the election is not complete until announced at the annual meeting."

As is well known, I received 12 votes out of the 22 accredited to California, which votes were duly instructed for me by the several chapters, and voted for me in person by the several delegates present at a regularly called meeting of the California delegation to the Continental Congress held at the St. Francis Hotel, February 12th, 1910.

Had Sequoia and Santa Monica chapters been represented, I would have received 15 votes, all instructed for me by their respective chapters.

All precedent has been violated in the recommendation of State officers by the few delegates who attended the Continental Congress. These few delegates should have confirmed the verdict expressed so plainly by the California delegates at the St. Francis Hotel meeting, when I was re-elected State regent, and Mrs. G. Wiley Wells was elected Ssate vice-regent.

The State meeting in Washington was called by the four delegates from Southern California, notwithstanding protest and the statement made on the floor of the congress that the credentials of certain delegates of Northern California had not arrived. These four delegates from Southern California held this so-called State meeting on the first evening of the Continental Congress, an unheard of proceeding, and recommended State officers who were not the choice of a majority of the California chapters. This action has made the case a national scandal.

It has always been in rule at the Continental Congress for the delegates in attendance from any State, to recommend to the Continental Congress the election of those State officers who were chosen by a majority of the chapters in regular meeting in their respective states, prior to the departure of the delegates for Washington.

If the ladies who have profited by this misconduct, or their friends, justify such unprecedented proceedings, then I presume I must not complain. However, for the sake of justice and fair play, I am glad the facts are coming to the surface as a result of the investigation instituted by Sequoia Chapter. This investigation will clear the atmosphere, invite better methods in the future, thus promoting the well being of the society, and finally making us all better friends and better Daughters of the American Revolution.

Cordially yours,
CAROLINE KELLEY LAIRD.

ASKS FOR LIGHT.

Mrs. Truesdell on May 24 sent the following letter to Mrs. Dahlgren:

"As you know you were appointed alternate at the recent congress. Some of the members have called for an investigation as to why your credentials were not on time in Washington. Will you kindly give us light as follows:

"What day and hour did you receive your credentials? We know the credentials were somewhat late in starting, but by our date there was plenty of time. Did you know previous to this date that you were alternate to our regent and did you know the date and hour of the State meeting for California before you received your credentials?

"Mrs. Dahlgren answers that she did not receive her credentials until after the session had convened and that she knew nothing of the time and place for the meeting until it was over. She expresses herself as strongly in favor of a thorough investigation of the matter, asserting that the failure of Mrs. Moore to notify her of her appointment until so late a day placed her in an extremely embarrassing position.

DENOUNCES TACTICS.

"Mrs. John F. Swift, who holds the national office of vice-president general, having been elected to that office after serving as State regent for ten years, is strong in her denunciation of the underhanded tactics adopted by the South.

"I am sorry that the election has resulted in so much dissatisfaction—perhaps scandal would be the more honest word—but I think in common justice to all concerned the matter should be cleared up. Mrs. Stilman was put in office by trickery and the failure of the few delegates present to observe the letter of the law which governs the national congress.

"Our object in bringing to light all of the facts concerned in the fiasco is the betterment of the order. We want honesty and fair dealing, and we have received neither from the South. The club women in that portion of the State, no matter what their affiliation, seem to be hostile to all of the rest of the world. It seems to me that at least half of the organizations who have men and elected officers this year, no matter what their nature or standing, have encountered trouble with the southern delegates. I will be heartily glad if the trouble can be eliminated, in the American Daughters of the Revolution at least."

Fast Passenger Train Wrecked by Landslide

Fireman Killed and Seven People Are Injured in Odd Accident in Kentucky.

HAWKESVILLE, Ky., July 18.—A Louisville, Henderson and St. Louis westbound passenger train was wrecked by a landslide two miles from this city early this morning. Fireman Reynolds was killed and seven passengers bruised. The landslide came just as the train was passing under a high bluff. The locomotive and baggage car were swept from the track by the avalanche and carried 200 feet. Two passenger coaches were derailed but remained upright.

PATHETIC DEATH ENDS HARD LIFE

Woman Dies From Fatigue Caused by Work for Small Family.

Her health undermined by a long period of hardship, work and worry, Mrs. Louisa A. Bimson, a dressmaker who was the sole support of her aged mother and of her dead brother's three orphan children, dropped dead in her basement home, 1360 Tenth street, after she had attended church yesterday morning with her little family. Death, according to the physician, who was hastily summoned, had evidently resulted from exhaustion induced by overwork and lack of proper food.

Mrs. Bimson was 40 years old, and for some time has been the sole support of her family of four. Her brother, his wife and their five children, residing with Mrs. Bimson's mother in Missouri, became ill some time ago, and the disease was fatal to the parents and two of the children. The Oakland dressmaker, who had been contributing to the support of her aged mother, spent her small savings in making the trip East and bringing out the three orphan children and her mother, Mrs. Saloma Jaeger, who is more than four-score years of age.

Since taking charge of the group of dependents last April her life has been one of extreme hardship, and yesterday fatigue caused a complete breakdown and almost instant death. Her death leaves the aged woman and the three children, Saloma, Agnes and Joseph Jaeger, ranging from eight to four years of age, in a destitute condition. The body of the dressmaker has been taken to the morgue, and it will probably devolve upon the county to provide for her burial.

Jones, the two architects representing the New York firm of Palmer & Hornbostel, which was awarded the first prize in the recent contract for plans for the $1,000,000 city hall of Oakland, are expected in Oakland either tonight or tomorrow morning. A letter was received by Mayor Mott a few days ago bringing the information that Jones and Hornbostel, who will represent the New York firm in supervising the construction of the new building, would arrive in Oakland July 18. No word has been received from them since then, but it is expected they will be here either tonight or tomorrow morning. Immediately upon their arrival work will be commenced on adapting the plans accepted by the City Council to the site and the specific needs of the executive building of the city.

The Men Behind The Fun
Willard & Bond
The Battle of Bunco Hill

The funniest military act in vaudeville, Joe F Willard and Harry Bond in the 'Battle of Bunco Hill,' at the Bell

Fun in capital letters fun presented [illegible] ever combined with a number of entertaining musical [illegible] and diverting vaudeville novelties [illegible] the splendid offering at the Bell Theater this week. Two comedians of [illegible] the laughable headliner [illegible] up in superb costume [illegible] the comedy act of the [illegible] Joe F Willard and Harry Bond and the [illegible] Devil's [illegible] is supposed to be an old war horse who when he scents the odor of gun powder becomes unmanageable and tries to dislodge the German war correspondent Schultz, who is detailed to carry a message for reinforcements. The antics of the animal and the efforts of the German are excruciatingly funny.

All music lovers finds a rare treat in Metz and Metz in their vocal comedietta A Midnight Rehearsal. The offering [illegible] made up of operatic excerpts and proves a very satisfactory number. These two are foreigners with continental training and their original [illegible] is arranged in a most fetching [illegible]. Neil McKinley is winning the Bell audiences with his syncopated melodies and Helen Stuart as gifted a little comedienne as ever stepped before the lights is an artist to her finger tips. Great motion pictures complete the bill.

IDITAROD VALLEY NOW INLAND SEA

Boats Steam Across What Once Was Land; Melting Snows Cause.

TACOMA July 18—Iditarod Alaska's latest gold camp has been flooded by melting snows and heavy rains. The lower Iditarod valley forms an inland sea forty miles wide with the tundra eight to eleven feet under water. The steamer Tanana which left Iditarod two weeks ago connected at Gibbon with the steamer Susie which reached Dawson Saturday. The Tanana steamed across the Iditarod valley forty miles after landing her passengers and cargo at Iditarod City located on the only high bank in the district eighteen miles below the mouth of Otter creek. From the town across to Flat Creek is seven miles.

J O'Keefe who reached Dawson says Flat creek has four miles of pay dirt. Willow and Otter creeks each a half mile. Flat creek sells $2 to $3 per square foot on the bedrock. Much machinery is being rushed in to work as the ground is too wet for winter work and O'Keefe says there is little work at wages for thousands of stampeders who reached Iditarod in June. Hundreds have gone prospecting in the direction of Kuskokwim river where rich placers have been found. He believes these prospectors will open new fields.

Captain Gray of the steamer Tanana says the Iditarod flood water has covered many claims washing out their dumps of gold bearing gravel. Some miners are pumping their claims dry. All supplies at American Yukon trading posts have been skimmed out by steamers and rushed to Iditarod. Rubber boots and shoes are in great demand and command a big premium.

PROPOSE TO UNITE ALL CHRISTIANS

Unity Foundation Sets New Pace for Religion; Episcopalians' Plan.

NEW YORK July 18—Twenty four American Episcopalians fourteen of them residents of this city will incorporate at Albany today a plan to bring about the organic union of the Christians of all the world—Protestant and Roman Catholic. The Christian Unity Foundation is the name of the society. It is patterned upon the Sage Foundation purporting to place at the service of Christianity the same methods that are employed by the Sage and similar church foundations.

The new scheme is unlike the Federal Council organized here three years ago for federal co operation without disturbing organization. The new plan would wipe out all names and make simply one big religious body. While it is started by the Episcopalians the venture does not aim to make others to be Episcopalians. Twelve of the twenty four men are clergymen and twelve are laymen. Of the first twelve half are bishops and half presbyters. All the schools of thought in the church are represented.

Festival Committee Pays; Has Funds Left

SAN LEANDRO July 18—The general committee of the San Leandro cherry festival has audited all accounts and it has been found that the total expenses of the affair amount to $2[illegible]. This is more than covered by the funds at the disposal of the committee.

A balance of $100 has been turned over to the San Leandro Boosters club to help defray the expenses of San Leandro at the Hayward Fourth of July celebration. There will still be a balance after all debts have been paid. It is probable that this will be turned over to the San Leandro Chamber of Commerce.

HILLSBORO WAGES WAR ON SKEETERS

Winged Horde Drinks Billion-Dollar Blue Blood; Society Gives Battle.

SAN FRANCISCO July 18—An assassination fund of $25 000 is to be raised jointly by Hillsborough Burlingame and San Mateo in an effort to resist the invasion of hordes of devastating mosquitoes.

So sanguinary have the incursions of these Huns of the insect domain become that the patricians of the three towns know no rest and terror stalks abroad on the face of the land.

Up to the present time something like a billion dollars in wealth is represented among the persons who have felt the stinging darts of the invaders. The list of victims who have been compelled to invest in soothing lotions in fact reads like a combination social register and Bradstreet's.

READS LIKE BRADSTREET'S

Here for instance are a few of the victims together with their financial rating:

Crocker, Miss Jennie	$10 000,000
Crocker Charles Templeton	2 000 000
Hobart Walter	5 000 000
Scott Mr and Mrs Lawrence	2 000 000
Clark Mr and Mrs Chas W	12 000 000
De Sabla Mr and Mrs Eugene	2 000 000
Tobin Dick	500 000
Driscoll Mr and Mrs Thomas	1 000,000
Brewer Misses Nora and Amy	250 000
Pope George	3 000 000
Coleman Robert	2 000 000
Howard George H	2 000 000
Bowie Henry T	1,500,000
Scott Henry T	2 500,000

BLUE BLOOD FINE FEED

With so much wealth at the command of the persons who have enlisted in the fight against the mosquitoes the raising of the fund of $25 000 is considered a mere nothing.

A small army of Hessians in the persons of Japanese are now employed in spraying the marshes with crude petroleum under the direction of J H Hunter who expects to become the health inspector of Hillsborough. Hunter is employed by the county in the war against the mosquitoes. The supply of oil is giving out. The millionaires will fill the barrel.

Modesto Threatened by Big Conflagration

MODESTO July 18—Fire that for a time threatened the entire business section caused a property loss of $[illegible]0 000 early yesterday. The fire broke out in the City Bakery and spreading to the Ward furniture store destroyed both buildings.

The Rova lodging house the Kelley dry goods store and other buildings were damaged while a grain warehouse several blocks away caught fire from sparks and was damaged considerably.

Several firemen were burned and County Clerk Mitchel and Charles Noack manager of the power company removed several tanks of gasoline and ten boxes of dynamite from a burning warehouse in the rear of the furniture store. The latter was severely burned.

Insult Was Given Delegate, Hay Says

SEATTLE July 18—Governor M E Hay declared yesterday that until he received assurance that the Washington delegates would be accorded fair and courteous treatment he would decline to appoint any representatives to go from this state to the national conservation congress to be held in St Paul this summer. Governor Hay said that last year Federal Judge Cornelius H Hanford who was appointed a delegate to the congress which met in Seattle received discourteous treatment from the other delegates because he read a paper criticising the conservation policy advocated by the congress and expressed himself as [illegible] to less stringent regulations.

BOY BADLY HURT IN CAVE EXPLOSION

Bottle Found in Outlaw's Hiding Place Blows Up and Injures Finder.

WILLOW CAMP July 18—Delving into the mysteries of a battered iron bound chest which he found in a cave on the ocean shore a mile south of here yesterday Randolph Johnson the 12 year old son of Peter Johnson a building contractor of Mill Valley accidentally broke a small bottle and his right hand was seriously mangled and his face cut by an explosion that followed. The lad was hurried to West Point on Mt Tamalpais in a buggy and taken to Mill Valley on a gravity car. Here his injuries were dressed by Dr J J Spottiswood.

The boy is unable to explain what caused the explosion but from his description of the bottle it is thought to have contained nitroglycerin. How the chest came to be in the cave and the presence of the explosive are deep mysteries.

RENDEZVOUS FOR OUTLAWS

When the lad's injuries are healed the authorities will ask him to show them the cave and an investigation will be made. It is thought that the place may have been a rendezvous or hiding place for outlaws who frequented this county in early days.

Young Johnson came upon the cavern by accident. He was climbing a cliff about fifteen feet above the ocean when he discovered a cleft between two large boulders. His youthful love of adventure was aroused and he ventured cautiously through the opening into the interior of a gloomy natural grotto.

A few old rags lay in one corner and several rusty implements were heaped against the rock wall. In the dim light he made out a small chest near the other relics. The hinges were so rusted by the weather that he pried open the lid with little difficulty.

BOTTLE FOUND WITH METAL.

He felt several pieces of metal and other objects inside but by some unfortunate freak of fortune he picked up the bottle first. It slipped through his fingers and instantly exploded. With his face cut and his hand badly torn the boy succeeded in making his way back to Willow Camp and secured aid.

WEIRD BOY PROVES POLICE PUZZLE

Vanishes From the St. Francis Hotel as Mysteriously as He Appeared.

SAN FRANCISCO July 18—Who is Freddie Drawn and what has become of him?

The police of three cities began to ask themselves this question yesterday after this 12-year old boy became lost under circumstances almost as bizarre as those under which he was found in the lobby of the St Francis hotel late Saturday night.

When he was found at the hotel the boy said he had been waiting for his father in the lobby since 3 o'clock in the afternoon.

EATS HEARTY BREAKFAST

Yesterday morning Freddie Drawn got up, ate a big breakfast and made inquiries for his father.

'No he hasn't called for you yet' he was told.

'Then I guess I'll start for home' said the boy. 'If you'll put me aboard a San Mateo car I will have no trouble in finding my home when I get there. We've been living there only a few days but I know where the house is and can't get lost.'

The boy told such a convincing story about his ability to find his way home however that it was finally decided to put him aboard a San Mateo car.

The San Mateo police say they received no communication about the boy and it was not until hours after he was put aboard the car that they knew anything about him. They found no trace of any Drawn family. No trace could be found here of his father.

ONE MAN KILLED IN TRAIN WRECK

Conductor Fred W. Andree Meets Death When Freight Is Derailed.

REDDING July 18—Conductor Fred W Andree was killed, Brakeman Charles J Foley suffered sprains and bruises and an engine and twelve freight cars were derailed in a wreck on the Southern Pacific Railroad a mile south of Gibson yesterday. A broken flange on one of two cars which were being pushed ahead of the locomotive caused a derailment of the first car and the engine and eleven remaining cars rapidly left the rails.

Engineer John Thornton and Fireman Frank Baldwin had remarkable escapes from death. Remaining aboard the engine they were able to crawl out of the cab unaided. Neither was injured. Andree's body was found two hours after the wreck occurred. Inasmuch as there were no marks on Andree's body it is thought he was smothered to death by dirt which covered him when he was found. His body was brought here on a light engine. The dead man was 36 years old and single.

The wreck occurred in a deep cut and when the engine and cars piled upon one another traffic from both directions was blocked. Members of the wrecking crew who were called to clear the debris said the Shasta route would probably be blockaded until noon tomorrow. The locomotive is badly damaged and the cars are practically demolished.

BETRAYED BY WOMAN'S 'KISS OF JUDAS,' HUSBAND HANGS HIMSELF IN CELL

Wife Welcomes Fugitive Spouse Home, Then Gives Him Over to Police; 'I Have Lost All,' He Writes

WASHINGTON, July 18—Mrs William Lyons Saturday welcomed her long absent husband with a kiss. Then she turned the police on him. Stung by her betrayal Lyons hanged himself in his cell yesterday leaving a letter to his wife accusing her of betraying him with a Judas kiss.

Lyons had been a fugitive from justice for a year. He was a race-track follower and a year ago was arrested for handbook making. He forfeited his bond and fled to Canada.

Saturday he stepped into town unnoticed and sought his wife who welcomed him with a kiss. She had applied for a divorce in his absence but apparently overjoyed at his return, told him she would go right up to the clerk of the court and have her suit dismissed.

Instead she went to the police and told them where her husband was in hiding. The police later arrested him and put him into a cell at the Sixth Precinct station. Yesterday he slipped the end of his belt through the buckle tied a knot in the end passed it through the upper bar of his cell door and leaped from his bench.

In his cell was this note addressed to his wife

"My Dear Julia I know this trouble has been instigated by you. This is what you meant by telling me that you were going to see the clerk of the court, not to get the cases settled, but to get me in trouble. It was a Judas kiss you gave me.

"I know you have done this to get rid of me and to hide the life you are living. Well I have lost everything, even my wife. May God forgive you as I have tried to do tonight. Good-by,

(Signed) "WILL."

Lyons had long followed the turf and lived in luxury until several years ago when conditions killed racing at Bennings. Then came the local crusade against handbooks his arrest and flight.

Barefoot Dance Craze Dying

BOSTON, July 18.—The Countess De Piersefu, who was the beautiful Elsa Tudor of Boston, has returned here for a rest preparatory to her winter engagement as a barefoot dancer.

'Barefoot dancing' said the Countess yesterday, "will only last two years more. It started some time ago and in the first instance was artistically valuable. Then on account of the success it attained, it was subjected to a thousand imitations, imitations that had little or no sense of the appropriate.

It is probable that there will be exhibitions of the barefoot dance as long as five years but I think that two years will surely mark the end of its pronounced popularity. And so during the two years I want to be busy and make as much money as I can so as to be able to start in on my projects well fortified with a bank account.

I went on the stage at the outset frankly because of the money I could make in that way. The interest taken in classic dances commonly known as barefoot dances, opened an opportunity that I thought I could take advantage of.

'My husband went to Chicago to accept a position as assistant superintendent of the testing department of the United States Steel corporation. While he has been mastering the intricacies of the business I have been dancing and now that he has gotten into a really fine position he wants me to stop professional work because there seems to be no need for it.

Woman Forms Nickeldeon Trust

HEALDSBURG, July 18—It has remained for a woman to engineer a trust in this city which field has heretofore been regarded as strictly masculine field of endeavor and prowess. Mrs C Hartman is the proprietor of the nickelodeon trust of this city and has now three places under her management and ownership. When opposition develops Mrs Hartman simply buys up the opposition after it has been permitted to run a brief time and has been convinced that it cannot make any headway against the plucky and energetic woman who has successfully engineered that particular business here for some years past. Mrs Hartman is a favorite in Healdsburg and vicinity.

Not Sorry She Killed Him

SPRINGFIELD Ill July 18—The coroner's jury yesterday recommended that Mrs Frank Stout, who confessed to having shot and killed Deputy State Game Warden John O'Connor, be held for murder without bond. Her six children remained with her in the jail all day. Mrs Stout expressed no regret at having assassinated O'Connor who, she alleged had annoyed her and made objectionable advances toward her. Her husband, who was held pending inquiry was released yesterday.

Hands Him a Lemon as a "Lemon"

COLORADO SPRINGS Colo July 18—When Lottie Collins 16 rejected the suit of James S Hunter 35 she did so by handing him a lemon as a symbol of the common expression. Hunter brooded over his hopeless love affair for almost a month.

As he and the young woman arrived at a park yesterday Hunter exclaimed 'Good bye Lottie' and rushing away from the girl placed the muzzle of a revolver in his mouth and fired. He died instantly.

Converts Home Into a Hospital

NEW YORK July 18—Mrs Richard Aldrich a wealthy resident of Riverside Drive has converted her home on New York's most exclusive boulevard into a summer hospital for the sick babies of the poor and has installed her own physician as adviser in chief. A guild of deaconesses is in charge of the work.

About twenty children are now being cared for and the number will shortly be increased. As the patients convalesce they are to be taken to Mrs Aldrich's country place in Duchess county for the complete restoration of their health.

1000 California Mules to Be Sent to Fijis

STOCKTON July 18—The great demand for mules in the Fiji Islands is steadily increasing and orders have been received here for another cargo of 1000 animals which several agents are now purchasing through the San Joaquin county. Some months ago a sailing vessel was chartered and loaded with 1100 mules and sent to the Fiji Islands at a great profit to the parties who handled the venture. Horses do not last long in the islands but mules prove of great value to the plantation owners who will no longer accept any other kind of work animals.

B T McCullough of Crows Landing is handling this shipment and has already received many applications from young men who wish to make the trip on the ship and assist in caring for the mules.

No matter how fastidious you may be the Italian Swiss Colony's ASTI SPECIAL DRY will please you. It is a delicious sparkling white wine (Champagne type) naturally fermented in the bottle.

Miss Vida Llewellyn of La Grange western champion who has appeared in only one tournament this year will be among the competitors. MRS. HARTJE MAY MARRY REPORTER

Divorced Wife of Millionaire Denies That She Will Wed Again.

PITTSBURG, July 18— An aftersetting in the game of hearts between Augustus Hartje the multimillionaire paper manufacturer and his handsome wife Mary Kenny Scott Hartje whose marital troubles have filled columns of all the great newspapers for the last five years with its sensational disclosures, Charles Gillespie a newspaper man who was assigned to the story when the trouble first broke will soon supplant the millionaire and become the husband of Mrs. Hartje.

According to the terms of the divorce, which were first arranged upon outside of court Mrs Hartje will receive from her former millionaire husband the income of $100,000 during her life.

FOLLOWED HER TO FLORIDA

It is a matter of mention that Gillespie's ascent [illegible] between Mr Hartje and himself came when Mrs Hartje was in Florida and Gillespie, pleading ill health, asked for a leave of absence and was supposed to be quietly recuperating somewhere in West Virginia. Later his employers learned he had gone to Florida and joined Mrs. Hartje there.

Hartje says he has heard about the approaching marriage but is not interested.

'I put up the money' he said 'and I am done. She is at liberty to do as she wishes.'

Mr Gillespie could not be reached. Mrs Hartje said

'Why it is simply preposterous. Why, Charlie is really the same as my cousin. Marry him? Not him or any other man. I have had enough for mine.'

SEEKS TREASURE TROVE; FINDS IT

Lloyd Osbourne's Son Digs Up Buried Chest and Finds Mining Stock.

SAN FRANCISCO July 18 — Memories of Robert Louis Stevenson's delightful treasure trove stories are recalled by the finding of a mysterious metal box filled with mining stock and valuable paper by Louis Osborne the eight year old son of Lloyd Osborne, the famous romancer's stepson and himself a novelist of wide reputation. The box was buried in the sand behind a row of trees opposite Mrs Osborne's home, at 1100 Lombard street.

The property has been identified as that of Augustus F Imbrie of 2806 Van Ness avenue. The police have discovered that the home was entered Friday night by means of a pass key, and that a fur stole was taken as well as the box.

Mrs Osborne found that the lock to the box had been forced. The lid opened easily. Inside were found a bank book showing a large deposit in the German Savings and Loan Society, nearly 3000 shares of mining stock, deeds and other legal documents.

Several empty jewelry cases showed that the box had been rifled of its negotiable valuables. The police were unable to learn yesterday what was in the box before the robbery. The thief evidently took everything which he could turn to immediate use and then buried the box with such of its contents as were useless to him in the sand to hide the evidence of his crime.

Retailers Protest Wholesaler's Plan

NEW YORK July 18—Several wholesale jewelry companies in the Maiden Lane district have recently been trying to put into effect a new plan of selling watches known as the complete watch method. For many years retailers have bought watch cases separately from the works thus being able to sell an almost endless variety of combinations as a movement could be put in any of dozens of kinds of cases. Under the new system retailers must buy cases and works together.

Already retailers have begun to protest against this. The National Association of Retail Jewelers will consider the matter at its convention to be held the last week of this month at Detroit.

All Money Collected for Cleveland Tower

NEW YORK July 18—Most of the money for the Grover Cleveland memorial at Princeton is now at hand according to the announcement from the committee in charge and work is to be started at once. Slightly more than $73,[illegible]00 of the necessary $100 000 has been subscribed.

The memorial will be a tower 75 feet high. In accordance with the wishes of Mr Cleveland's family and characteristic of his own ideas there will be no heroic statue or figure on the exterior. It is possible that a modest bust of the former President may be placed within the tower which will also contain articles associated with his connection with Princeton.

Meaning of "Want" to Govern Bequests

NEWARK N J July 18—The court of chancery here has been invoked to define the verb 'want.' A matter of many thousand dollars depends on whether the court agrees with the definition as given by the executors of the will of the late William P Coffin or with that of the widow. The executors maintain that the verb in question means 'require' while Mrs Coffin thinks 'desire' is a better synonym.

A clause in the will of the merchant reads:

'The executor shall pay to my widow during her lifetime such sums of money as she shall want for her comfortable support and maintenance.'

Gillett Fails to Land Elusive Truckee Fish

SACRAMENTO July 18 — Governor Gillett returned last night from a fishing trip on the Truckee river. Asked as to the appointment of a successor to Justice James W Taggart of the Second District Appellate Court the Governor replied that he was not aware that Taggart was dead. While on the trip the Governor had poor luck at fishing the Truckee river being too high for successful angling.

The Expected Has Happened.

As was foreshadowed by incidents during the hearing, the joint committee appointed by Congress to investigate the conduct of the Forestry Bureau and the General Land Office has divided along political lines. The majority report completely exonerates Secretary Ballinger. The findings reflect severely on the methods, motives and general conduct of Glavis, Pinchot and other government employes prominent in the attack on the Secretary of the Interior. Pinchot, Glavis et al. are sustained and Ballinger condemned by the minority.

All the Democrats on the committee and the lone insurgent member, Madison of Kansas, unite in finding Ballinger culpable in his administration of the Interior Department though they acquit him of the more serious charges brought against him. Madison went on the committee in a partisan frame of mind, and he manifested his sympathy with the prosecution at every stage of the proceedings. Sitting as a judge or juryman in the case, he conducted himself all through as a man determined to bring the Secretary in fault. Nobody is surprised that he has done so.

Being an insurgent he naturally makes common cause with the Democrats against his Republican colleagues and a member of the Republican cabinet.

The Democratic House members of the committee, Ollie James of Kentucky and James M. Graham of Illinois, were plainly animated by a desire to make political capital out of the Pinchot-Ballinger quarrel. With this object in view they naturally sided with Pinchot and against the Republican majority of the committee. It was their endeavor to place the Taft administration on trial and to create the impression that it was somehow derelict in dealing with the public domain if not in actual sympathy with the schemes of land grabbers and monopolists.

Hence they did only what they set out to do and what was expected of them when they framed up a minority report charging Ballinger with dereliction. That they are supported by their insurgent ally is only what everybody understood was to happen. It merely confirms the general impression that the chief aim of the insurgents is to assist the Democrats in their efforts to overthrow the Republican party.

The remarkable growth of the fresh fruit industry in the United States is exemplified by two recent incidents. One day last week seventy-five carloads of pears were shipped from Sacramento to the east. About the same time 110 carloads of peaches were shipped to the north in a single day from Jacksonville, Texas. The day previous eighty carloads were shipped from the same place. Hence the paradox that good fruit is being retailed in Chicago and New York for approximately the same retail prices that prevail in San Francisco.

Pass the Fireworks Ordinance.

Councilman Pendleton is right in saying the underwriters have not kept faith with the citizens of Oakland in the matter of reducing insurance rates. They have not only failed to redeem specific promises, but they have urged a number of flimsy excuses to cover their bad faith and have sought to impose new conditions instead of doing as they agreed to do. But the failure of the underwriters to keep their promises is no reason why the fireworks ordinance should not be passed. It will so obviously conserve life and property that its passage should not hinge on anything the insurance companies do or do not do. Very few buildings are insured for their full value and some are not insured at all. Life and limb are in an altogether different category. The fireworks ordinance is in the interests of the people of Oakland, and it should be passed whether the underwriters are for or against it. The insurance companies have used the people of Oakland ill, but we cannot bring them to terms by refusing to enact an ordinance dictated by prudence and humanity. Pass the ordinance and deal with the underwriters in some other way. Proceeding against them for violating the anti-trust provision of the Sherman Act might bring them to their senses.

The Stockton Mail nominates Theodore Roosevelt for director-general of the Panama-Pacific Exposition. What is the matter with Billy Bryan? Has the Mail at last forsaken its idol?

The Fresno Republican urges the Democrats to endorse Congressman Needham. They would do well to do so, but the advice sounds queer coming from the Republican. That journal has been charging treason against all Republicans who sided with Speaker Cannon and the Republican majority in Congress and preaching a doctrine that calls for Mr. Needham's defeat. The Republican does not dare attack or offend Needham and hence fawns upon him while repudiating his principles and his conduct in the House of Representatives.

It is announced that a new credit system is to be adopted by the University of California. It would be better for the cause of genuine education if all admissions were based upon personal examination. The credit system infects the high schools and encourages favoritism, even cheating. High school students have been denied graduating clearance because of petty animosity on the part of teachers, and others have been passed when their scholarship did not justify it. If all applicants for admission to the University were required to submit to examination there would be less intrigue and flunkeyism in the high schools and a higher respect for genuine scholarship.

Gertrude Atherton's attack on the literary colony located at Carmel-by-the-Sea is an ill-natured screed. It manifests the jaundice of spleen and shows the green tint of jealousy. Especially the attack on Mary Austin. What has Carmel done to Mrs. Atherton to give her a grouch? Her charge that the Carmel folks constitute a "mutual admiration society" suggests that Mrs. Atherton has not received what she considers her share of admiration. Her complaint that she is not appreciated because she did not "come out of Bohemia" is not well founded. Mrs. Atherton has been regarded as distinctly Bohemian in her tastes and habits. Some critics have said, however, that she is more Bedouin than Bohemian, and that her literary activities have shown a disregard of social obligation even more pronounced than her defiance of social convention. But Mary Austin will survive Gertrude Atherton's attack. Her literary work is of a higher and more lasting quality than anything Mrs. Atherton ever wrote, and we suspect that is what has got onto Mrs. Atherton's nerves.

In the seventeenth century it was a punishable offense in England to kiss either wife or children on Sunday.

RED MAN FAST DYING OUT

The taking of the census among the Indians in the United States has proved a less difficult task than had been expected. That has proved true, despite the placing of an extra task upon the special agents—that of obtaining tribal data. These will be probably the last to be taken, since a decade hence there will probably remain no Indians who are not citizens instead of dependent wards of the National Government. As had been calculated from observation, the returns show a decrease in number in the decade ended in 1900. That decrease is from 273,607 to 266,760, or 2.5 per cent. But in 1880 the care of the Indians cost the Government $5,206,109; in 1909 that cost had increased more than three times, to $15,724,162.

More important is the evidence presented as to advancement in industry and education. The total attendance of Indian children in schools, both under Government and missionary management, is 25,777. It is an interesting feature of these schools that special effort is made to teach the Indian child some specific industry by which he may hope to win self-support. Thus, in Michigan the cultivation of the sugar beet is taught, and in California a chief subject of instruction is fruit growing, picking and packing. It is well to be assured also that there is inculcated the theory of the self-respect of labor and of the disgrace of idleness. A noteworthy example of such labor is that performed by Apaches upon reclamation projects, at which they earned $34,000 in 1909 for service in a climate where it would have been difficult, if not impossible, for white men to endure the requisite physical strain. Navajos and Pueblos have made creditable records at sheep herding, and railway construction has employed a goodly number of Indians along the route of the Southern Pacific. This work has reduced the consumption of whisky, which, next to tuberculosis, has been the most fatal foe of the Indian. The day seems to have passed when the only good Indian is a dead one, or when they are to be regarded, as they were by the New England Puritans, as "imps of the evil one."—New York Tribune.

TREE-STRIPPED CHINA

That the stripping of trees from a country has a bad effect on the climate is indicated by the following account by a traveler in the interior of China: "Kansu is the poorest of all the provinces of China and the most inaccessible by reason of its defective communications. Devastated by Mohammedan insurrection in the years from 1861 to 1878, it has never recovered from the ravages to which it was then subjected. The ruins everywhere of what were once thriving towns and villages impress the traveler with a sense of the horrors of insurrection in China. Insurrection means extermination of the vanquished—no quarter to old or young, to man or woman. Loss of life during the great insurrection amounted to millions, and even in the short insurrection of 1896 the destruction of life was appalling.

"The province now needs repeopling, but in the absence of communications the work is difficult. It is a treeless province. There has been universal destruction of timber. Even the fine avenue of willows and poplars planted by Tso Tsung-t'ang between the two capitals is fast disappearing. Deforestation is profoundly affecting the climate.

"When rain falls it falls with such violence that it scars the face of the country, which is everywhere covered with soft loess (clay) of varying thickness, with no vegetation to bind the soil together."

Twenty Years Ago in Oakland

Peter Jackson, the Arthur Johnson of twenty years ago, writes a letter from Joe Dieves' place on the San Leandro road, which he styles Chateau Dieves, to THE TRIBUNE, in which, among other things, he says "And let me say in this connection, that the great merit of such clubs as the California Athletic Club of San Francisco and the Pelican Club of London, is that the rowdy element is excluded and only gentlemen are in control. Whenever anything like crooked trickery shows itself, it is immediately suppressed in such institutions and that is the end of it. It is only in irresponsible clubs that a man is 'queered' and a battle not fought on its merits."

At the banquet given a few nights ago, in honor of J. T. Carothers, after his return from the east, A. C. Henry, in responding to a toast, among other things, said that Mr. Carothers was the choice of all present for election to congress and that all those present would support him.

In speaking with a representative of THE TRIBUNE today on the subject, Mr. Carothers said: "You may simply say that I am not a candidate for any office. I think that will cover the subject in a concise manner and is as plain as the speech I made the other night at the banquet. You cannot interpret that speech to mean anything else."

The talk about issuing bonds and making public improvements still goes on and it becomes more apparent that it is going on in the right direction. There are comparatively few people who oppose the issue of bonds and these favor improvement by a direct tax; still, from the drift of opinion, though ideas are varied as to the best means of spending the money raised by an issue of bonds, it seems certain that almost any reasonable proposition which the council will place before the people will carry.

A representative of the Weber School Furnishing Company says that, during the last year, the board of education ordered a very large quantity of desks from the Sterling Company, but that toward the close of the year the board discovered its fund was getting short, and not desiring to get into debt, rescinded part of its order. Then when the fiscal year was over, the Sterling Company was notified to send along the part of the order that had been rescinded. The Weber people say that after they get an order for the furniture which was ordered by the board of education, bids for which were subsequently rejected by the board of public works, they will bring suit for the purpose of preventing the Sterling Company from filling the rescinded order.

City Engineer Morgan is of the impression that by means of the improvements now in progress in Independence Square, 20,000 cubic yards of earth will be removed in bringing a certain part of that inclosure to grade level.

THE TRIBUNE has not quit on the proposition that the census must be taken over again. This second enumeration must be paid for by the generosity of the citizens. An official recount by the Government cannot be obtained. W. A. Anderson, the official supervisor for the census in which Oakland is located, would not give his official sanction for a recount, and an appeal to the census bureau at Washington would be useless. But the people of Oakland on their own account can take the census again and prove that the official account is correct or incorrect. The people deem that it is incorrect and that the population exceeds the number of people enumerated by the official enumerators. We want to know if the population is only 45,000, or 48,000, or 50,000, or whether it is 55,000.

At a meeting of the Republican county central committee, W. R. Davis is elected delegate-at-large to the Republican State convention from Alameda county. He was placed in nomination by Tom Molloy. C. C. Alexander was named by J. C. Wilson. Davis received 9 votes and Alexander 4.

'Champagne' From Pears

A judge of wines was handed a brimming, creaming glassful of liquor at the brewers' exhibition recently. "What excellent champagne" was his remark as he tasted it. "That," explained an official judge, "is not champagne, but English perry, the finest perry ever produced," for it was generally admitted by the judges, who commenced to work through the perry and cider classes, that the perry on show was better than any similar liquor ever exhibited.

There were 109 different samples of ciders and perries and forty-two samples of the apples and pears from which the beverages are produced.

"Cider and perry," said a judge, "are made from fruit which is useless for eating. The industry is entirely a home one and there are few farms in the west country which do not boast a cider-apple and perry-pear orchard. Very few ciders contain more than 4 per cent of alcohol—less than many varieties of stone ginger beer—and are, therefore, excellent drinks for temperance purposes. The very best perry—English champagne, which, when put in a wineglass, deceives connoisseurs—can be produced for sale at 1s 6d a bottle, and cider, in the best qualities, at 8s a dozen quart bottles. In wood cider can be purchased at from 6d to 1s 6d a gallon.—London Mail.

M'KINLAY'S CHALLENGE DISMAYS WILLIAM KENT

Brilliant Solon's Offer to Debate Issues Is Dodged by Lincoln-Roosevelt League Candidate

The republicans of the Second Congressional District are cheering Congressman McKinlay and smiling at the discomfiture of William Kent of Kentfield, the millionaire who has consented to represent the Lincoln-Roosevelt League in that district in the congressional fight against McKinlay, because Kent has declined for various reasons to meet McKinlay in a debate on the issues of the campaign on the stump and his declination has caused a drooping of the corners of the mouths of his supporters in the league.

The challenge to Kent was issued about [illegible] weeks ago and while several papers in the district sought immediately to ascertain what he proposed to do in the premises Kent succeeded in dodging them for several days. His answer to the query as to whether he would meet the Congressman on the stump was in effect that he could not say at this time but he would make up his mind toward the latter part of the week.

DECLINED AT END OF WEEK

The end of the week was awaited with the greatest interest for the reason that the leagueites were confident that their leader would only be too glad to welcome the chance to floor the representative of the anti-insurgent element in Congress.

Their disappointment was keen when Kent [illegible] declined to meet the eloquent Congressman from the Second [illegible] the same time [illegible] admitted that [illegible] misrepresented in the [illegible] had been made to McKinlay [illegible] to what he (Kent) had said on the platform.

As a consequence McKinlay's stock has gone up [illegible] per cent in the district [illegible] members not [illegible] of whom believed that Kent was to be their political Moses.

JOHNSON'S MISREPRESNETATION

was simply that he was misinformed.

Crooks who is an Anderson man had declined to act as chairman of a Johnson meeting to be held in Benicia when asked to do so by a committee of the Lincoln Roosevelt League. [illegible] others did the [illegible] and a second appeal was made to Crooks and this also was declined for the reason that while he was doing all he could to promote the candidacy of Anderson he could but stultify himself to preside at a Johnson meeting. At the same time he declared that he had no personal objection to Johnson. As to what happened when Johnson let his tongue get the better of him is told in the following statement by Crooks:

On the night of the mass meeting the fife and drum corps from the Soldiers' Home that is accompanying the Lincoln-Roosevelt League candidate played for a time and finally attracted an audience of not exceeding 150 persons. Johnson opened his speech with an attack on me and bankers in general. He charged that I had sought to prevent the placing of his cards in the store windows. This was both false and absurd as of the forty two directors of the bank with which I am connected at least fifteen permitted the placing of Johnson cards in the windows of their stores. Johnson began and concluded his speech in apparent bad temper and at the end left the hall immediately ignoring other candidates who were to follow him.

It had been arranged to give Johnson a luncheon and covers for fifty had been laid but just twelve attended. Of these three were registered Democrats, three were Army officers who do not vote, one was for Curry and the remainder for Johnson.

I subsequently met Johnson on a train and told him that his statement in relation to me was not true. He replied that he had been misinformed.

CANDIDATES FOR TAX COLLECTOR

There are to be only two candidates for the position of county tax collector, namely James B. Barber of Alameda and M. G. Callaghan of Livermore. The latter stands well in the commercial world in Livermore and vicinity but he runs on the Democratic party which of course is hopelessly in the minority in this county. For that reason there is no doubt of the success of Barber at the forthcoming primaries. Aside from this fact the incumbent in the tax collector's office has been one of the most successful and accommodating who has ever been honored by the votes of the people of this county. He has made a study of the law providing for the collection of taxes and has mastered every one of its intricacies. He is familiar with expert accounting and has always made it a point of surrounding himself with assistants who are also expert in the matter of handling figures and who are at the same time courteous and attentive to the patrons of the office.

Barber is one of the best acquainted men in Alameda county and his devotion to the duties of his office with which all tax payers have to deal has placed him high in the estimation of all.

Stole to Care For Woman and Her Baby

LOS ANGELES.—"I robbed to take care of that little girl and her baby. I was broke and down to my last 17 cents. They wanted for food and I went out and did what I did that they might have something to eat." This is the statement given in excuse for the crime which he has confessed to the police [illegible] Paul P. Cassidy, the [illegible] burglar, last night.

"If Paul has done anything wrong he did it for love of me, but I cannot [illegible] there must be some awful mistake. He was good and honest [illegible] He helped me when no other help was possible. It is an awful mistake. I cannot believe what they say he is." This is the statement made by Miss [illegible] Anderson, fiance of Cassidy [illegible] for him.

Cassidy is the burglar arrested by Detective [illegible] while he was trying to dispose of a lot of stolen [illegible] taken from the house of M. [illegible] Kohn [illegible] Fifth street on the night of June 2.

Cassidy, the confessed burglar and safe blower, according to his own story, is new to crime. He alleges that he is of a good New York family and [illegible] five years ago enlisted in the navy as a musician. Cassidy is a cornet player. He was soloist with his ship's band and played for phonograph machines. He came around the Horn with the big fleet and at Santa Cruz met Miss Anderson, a girl of 17, with a baby, who had been deserted by her husband a month after their honeymoon.

It was a case of love at first sight and the young people plighted their troth and waited the day when his enlistment in the navy would end that they might be married.

Five months ago Cassidy received his discharge and at once joined his sweetheart in Oakland where she was staying with relatives. He made his first slip from honesty when he left his ship. He took with him the cornet which he played in the band and which he had used to make records for the big phonograph companies.

Several months ago Miss Anderson came to Los Angeles. Cassidy followed. Miss Anderson lived for a time in a little cottage way down in the southeastern section of the city. [illegible] money gave out and the girl and the baby became hungry. Driven desperate, Cassidy, according to his story, one night committed burglary [illegible] food for the girl and her [illegible] robbed the Kohn place.

The loot he took from this place was sold [illegible] provided the [illegible] necessities of life. Then he attempted a more desperate crime. He made an attempt to blow the safe [illegible] [illegible] butcher shop at [illegible] and San Pedro streets. He [illegible] the dollars from the cash register [illegible] and then tried to open the safe, but was frightened away by the coming of an employe of the place.

Finally he got a position playing the cornet in the orchestra of a downtown theatre. It was only a small place but it paid enough to keep him and his intended wife and the baby. He had worked three days when he was arrested for the burglary of the Kohn place and [illegible] the butcher shop.

Cassidy is to plead guilty and ask probation. He has made a full confession to the police.

Sex Equality Is Impossible

WELLESLEY, Mass.—That true equality of the sexes may never be reached under present conditions and that even the most kindly disposed friend of suffragism cannot help adopting a different attitude in his relations with the opposite sex are two of the striking views held by Prof. Mary A. Willcox, who for twenty [illegible] years has been head of the Department of Zoology in Wellesley College and who has just been made professor emeritus.

"To insure the same treatment for boys and girls alike," says Prof. Willcox, "it is not sufficient that the parents of the children dress the boys and girls alike, allow them to play the same games [illegible] the same [illegible] Just as soon as the girl's sex is recognized men and women [illegible] adopt a different and less stimulating attitude toward her than toward a boy.

"There is no essential difference between a man's mind and a woman's mind in my opinion, but this is a question that cannot be answered conclusively until the treatment of the sexes from childhood is exactly the same."

'Hold Up Your Hands!' 'I Won't,' Declares Girl

LOS ANGELES.—Facing a revolver held in her face by a youthful bandit and indignantly refusing either to raise her hands above her head or open her chatelaine purse, little Miss Olive Housel, 817½ West [illegible] street, held the highwayman at bay until he was frightened away by an approaching automobile.

The attempted robbery occurred at midnight at Second and [illegible] streets. Within the chatelaine [illegible] her failed to secure was a valuable brooch, several stickpins and a [illegible] amount of money.

"I was going home," Miss Housel said last night, "when this young man turned around and faced me. He had a revolver and he pointed it right at my head.

"'Hold up your hands,' he said to me.

"'I won't,' I told him.

"We stood there looking at each other for a minute and then he told me to drop my bag and I did. He picked it up and gave it back to me and ordered me to open it.

"'I won't,' I said, [illegible] and I dropped it again.

"'Pick it up,' he [illegible] and I just said, 'I won't.'

"All of a moment he turned and ran and left me alone. He had not even found out whether I had a dime or a dozen dollars. He was scared away by the approach of an automobile party. I ran right on home and then notified the police."

Miss Housel is a Normal school girl of [illegible] in the B5 class of 1910. Her father is George P. N. Housel, and he himself was once held up [illegible] [illegible] by a gang of bandits at practically the same spot.

"I wasn't [illegible]," said Miss Housel, "until it was over. I almost fainted when I saw the man run. Before that he was mad [illegible] I felt like slapping him."

: Mother Love Betrays :

PHILADELPHIA.—It was [illegible] the [illegible] for a mother [illegible] Even when [illegible] off without [illegible] the will of mother instinct fights fiercely for supremacy.

That's why Mrs. [illegible] Ashland [illegible] was arrested at her home and brought before Magistrate Beaton in City Hall police court charged with abandoning her baby on June 28th at Thirty-third and Walnut streets.

If the mother instinct had not been so strong and the yearning to see her child so irrepressible the woman would never have been suspected. But after she had abandoned her 16 days old little one, leaving it in charge of a boy whom she asked to look after it while she went to a drugstore, she became crazed at the separation.

She worried for fear someone had got hold of the child who would ill treat it. At night she wondered whether it was being properly put to bed. In the morning she was distracted for fear it would not be fed, so she wrote letters incoherent [illegible] letters to persons in the neighborhood where she had deserted the baby, asking for news of it. Of course these letters served to trace the mother.

Chimpanzee Hugs Her, And Right id Public Park

NEW YORK.—"Baldy, [illegible] shall we go out and listen to the music?" said Keeper Reilly.

Baldy tried his best to reply, but as he cannot talk he did what [illegible] was the next best thing, he made a face. Reilly understood that the grimace meant yes, so he and Baldy started out.

The Bronx Zoo was crowded. Everybody and everybody's cousin was there to hear the band concert. But when Reilly and his chimpanzee appeared on the scene walking hand in hand the music was forgotten so far as the people were concerned.

If the crowd lost interest in the music [illegible] the chimpanzee [illegible] noticed that [illegible] keeper Reilly [illegible] and [illegible] He inspected the brass instruments and seemed to find them in working order. His next move was to shake hands with the leader. He had just finished this bit of politeness when he spied the bass drum. Nothing would do but he must try his hand as drummer. [illegible] showed by [illegible] that he preferred to [illegible] musician do the work playing, so taking Reilly once more by the hand he turned his attention to the crowd.

"Oh, my love! My heart['s] one!" he said to himself as he caught the sight of a beautiful young woman who was eyeing him with amused interest.

"My darling, I love [illegible]" said he, still talking to himself in a low tone. [illegible] he had heard [illegible] Then he broke from his keeper's hand and with a hop and a [illegible] he threw his arms around the object of his monkey affections and gave her a great big lovable hug. Some rude persons laughed, not understanding the love at first sight that had hit the chimpanzee. The young lady refused to give her name.

"I now occupy the position of executive committeeman for one of the [illegible] wards in Denver. Under my immediate jurisdiction there are about five thousand voters, approximately half of them women. I have a committee woman in each of fifteen precincts and at each election I work with these and other women [illegible] the result being that I am [illegible] [illegible] with the woman voter [illegible] very faculty for observing [illegible] manner of work [illegible] political situation.

"I freely assert without qualification that there is not, in my opinion, a single sound argument that can be advanced [illegible] suffrage to women. [illegible] as well, if not better in the [illegible] suffrage than men. When confronted with a question of [illegible] public importance we can obtain [illegible] a purer and more conscientious expression of public sentiment from the women than we can from the men. [illegible] women [illegible] think of [illegible] homes and their children while the men are too prone to think only of the [illegible] side of the question."

CIVILIZED RASCALS ON INCREASE, SAYS EASTERN MINISTER

ST. LOUIS, July 18.—"The conversion of the world was never farther from realization than at the present time," declared the Rev. W. H. Bundy of Brooklyn, N. Y., in a lecture here yesterday. He is the representative of the International Students' Bible Association.

"There is abundant evidence of this," he continued. "In the first place there are twice as many heathen as formerly; in the second place there is a great decadence among Christians themselves."

Mr. Bundy took the unique view that civilization does not make a man better, neither does it make nations peaceful.

"We have more civilized rascals today than we ever had in the history of the world," he said. "Those nations that are most civilized and have the greatest educational facilities are the ones who build the most battleships, whose naval armaments are the most stupendous and magnificent. They must have these things to protect themselves from other Christian nations. For it's the Christian nation that is advancing modern scientific warfare."

CONFERENCE CLUB CENSURES BORLE

Says There Are Too Many Fingers in the Pie in City Government.

ALAMEDA, July 18.—At a meeting held by the conference committee of improvement clubs yesterday to consider the situation resulting from the resignation of Secretary C. A. Borle, a report was adopted in regard to the action and the discussion over the amendment of the city charter which Borle says was the cause of his resignation. The resolution for amendment passed was as follows:

"That the three clubs composing the conference committee be requested to name three delegates each to look into the advisability of improving or amending the present city charter or formulating a new one."

There was no criticism of any city official or anything said tending to create discussion, and the secretary seemed as pleased as any of the delegates at the action taken.

ACTION OF COMMITTEE.

From the above resolution it will be seen that the conference committee did not transcend its powers, did not as a committee call for a revision of the charter, but did, as its constitution provides, initiate a measure for the indorsement by the three improvement clubs.

Under date of July 17 the former secretary writes to the following to the conference committee that: "For your information, those criticisms were not directed toward the whole city government, but against the commissions of said government."

The secretary, Mr. Borle, did not protest against any of the proceedings of the organization, and all resolutions and motions were adopted unanimously without a dissenting voice.

In fact, the essence of the discussion on amending the present city charter was that there are too many officers, too many fingers in the pie, too many avenues for the spending of money, and the best intentioned executive and even the most economical council are subject to too great pressure from the multitude of other officials, and by taking action now plenty of time would be allowed for the committee and citizens to discuss and consider proper amendments to the present charter before the next municipal election in April 1911 without additional cost to the taxpayers.

FOR MORE THAN A YEAR

San Francisco has had committees out for over a year investigating and formulating improvements to its charter. Oakland has just elected a new board of freeholders to draft a new charter. Berkeley is now working successfully and economically under her new charter of government by commissions (a mayor and four commissioners) patterned after the most successful models of Eastern cities, and there should be no reason why Alameda should not advance along the same lines as her sister cities to the betterment and improvement of civic life.

MAKING VACATION INTO A VOCATION

Bishop Nichols Pays High Tribute to Summer Students.

BERKELEY, July 18.—Bishop William Ford Nichols of the Episcopal church paid a high tribute to the students at the summer school at the University of California in his sermon at St. Mark's church in Berkeley yesterday. "When a person attends a summer school it shows that he or she is intensely in earnest," said the speaker. "Some there may be who put in their time at an institution of learning for the incidental advantages of social and entertaining functions or events, but the summer student at a place like the University of California is one who is devoted to the betterment or development of the highest ambitions of their lives. It has been said that a few of our people make a vocation of vacation, but [illegible] we have a sincere body of men and women who make their vacation a vocation."

Bishop Nichols said he was glad to address those who had been attracted here by the opportunities which the State university's summer school has to offer, and he took for his text the saying of Nicodemus to the Savior: "Rabbi, we know that thou art a teacher sent of God." As Nicodemus was himself a teacher, he was quick to recognize a teacher of the greatest wisdom, and so it is with the students now gathered in Berkeley. They recognize the value of the instruction to be obtained here and have a high appreciation of the advantages because the majority are themselves teachers, qualified not only to instruct others but also to receive instruction from the eminent educators who are conducting the classes at the university and have come hither to perfect themselves in their various subjects of higher and better education.

Mrs. Nina Elizabeth Irgens, wife of Dr. L. S. Irgens, died yesterday morning at 5:30 at their Piedmont residence, 10 Pacific avenue, after the birth of an infant male child. The Irgens have been residents of Piedmont for the last two years and during that time Mrs. Irgens has made a host of friends in the little city in the hills. She was 24 years of age, and besides the infant child, which is still living, and her husband, she leaves a daughter, Charlotte Louise, 12 years old. Mrs. Irgens was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Hoster, both of whom are now dead.

The funeral services, which will be held at the residence tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock, will be conducted by Rev. Mr. Stitchell of the Piedmont Interdenominational Church. The pallbearers will be J. A. Beatty, Dr. O. F. Wilson, Samuel K. Love, Fred Campbell and C. W. Hunt. The body will be cremated.

The work of oiling of the streets in Piedmont is now well under way, following the arrival of a carload of heavy oil at the Fortieth street terminal of the Key Route. During the treatment of the streets they will be closed to traffic. Granada, Ramona and Monticello streets have already received a coat of oil and the work of covering them with screening will follow at once. It is thought by the street department that the work of oiling all of the streets will take the greater part of the summer. The oil is pumped by a steam pump from the car at Fortieth street into wagons, which convey it to the scene of work, where it is then heated to a temperature of 200 degrees and spread upon the streets immediately after the sweeping.

Although he had been in California since 185[illegible] at different periods, of late years he had resided in Nevada. He was a native of Germany and 7[illegible] years old.

Funeral services were held at the undertaking parlors of James Fowler this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock, after which the remains were sent to Carson City.

ALAMEDA, July 18.—Joseph Morgan preferred a complaint of disturbing the peace against Ko Yama, a Japanese, yesterday, charging Yama with attacking him on Park street.

Policeman Willing, who was on the scene, took Yama into custody. The case was dismissed by Judge R. B. Tappan this morning upon the promise of the Jap to pay for the window which was broken in the scuffle.

OAKLAND ELKS REACH DETROIT

Local Lodgemen on Special Train Have Pleasant Trip to Grand Lodge Meeting.

EDITOR TRIBUNE: The Oakland Lodge No. 171, B. P. O. E. special train arrived in this city on time Sunday morning at 8:20 after a delightful trip across the continent. Leaving Oakland July [illegible] at 9 a. m. with eighty-five on board, we made first time to Sacramento, where a short stop was made, arriving in Reno at 7:40 p. m. We were met at the station by a delegation from Reno Lodge and escorted, together with our ladies, to Reno's beautiful Elks home, where we were royally entertained for about one hour. We were served there with their famous Pisco punch, and I tell you it is something that Reno Lodge can be justly proud of.

SEE RENO RESORTS

After the reception we were taken on a tour of inspection through some of Reno's famous gambling halls, and it was an interesting sight to all of the party.

Leaving Reno at 9:30 we arrived in Salt Lake City at 2:50 the following afternoon. We were there met by a large delegation from Salt Lake Elks Lodge, who gave us a trolley ride through the city, a reception and luncheon in the magnificent home, also an organ recital in the famous Mormon Tabernacle. In Salt Lake City every one was surprised at the beautiful stores and buildings recently erected or in course of construction.

VISIT AT CHEYENNE

Leaving Salt Lake at 6 o'clock p. m. we went over the Oregon Short Line to Ogden, then over the Union Pacific to Omaha. Leaving Omaha we arrived in Cheyenne, where we were met by quite a delegation from their local lodge. We arrived in Chicago at [illegible] o'clock Saturday afternoon and enjoyed a beautiful afternoon and evening in and around Chicago. We met quite a few Oakland boys there who spared no time, trouble or expense in showing us all a good time.

ARRIVE IN DETROIT

We left Chicago at 12 o'clock midnight and arrived at our destination—Detroit—at 8:20 Sunday morning. We are now domiciled at the Hotel Griswold and are all enjoying the beautiful sights in and around Detroit. There is no getting away from the fact that this is a most beautiful city, but the accommodations for a large crowd are very inadequate. The restaurants and hotels have all added anywhere from 100 to 300 per cent to their prices, which has caused all kinds of unfavorable comment. However, we are here to attend the grand lodge meeting and will stay until the end of the week.

RECEIVE TRIBUNE DAILY

The boys are all delighted at having received the OAKLAND TRIBUNE every day since their arrival here and all join me in thanking you for your generosity in seeing to it that we daily receive all of the news from our home city. There is no place like dear old California.

MINISTER WANTS HIGHER SALARIES

ALAMEDA, July 18.—Speaking from the pulpit of the First Congregational church yesterday, the Rev. George H. deKay of Berkeley, a former minister, at present in the realty business, stated that poor pay drove ministers from the pulpit and forced them to earn their livelihoods in different vocations.

"The Minister in Business" was the title of the address given by the former well known pastor, who declared that in this country alone several hundred former ministers were engaged in other pursuits besides that of the ministry, and that scant pay forced them to divert their thoughts from the ministry to the business world.

"Some ministers," he said, "trace their retirement from the pulpit to theological differences, and a few have fallen for the love of woman, but financial reasons have caused the greatest amount of backsliders. The clergyman ministers usually to the middle class, neither the very rich nor the very poor, but those who have all the simple comforts of life. He works for less pay often than a day laborer gets. Sometimes the church gives him a donation party, publicly advertising his needs and calling on charity to help him. This is a humiliating practice, which, luckily, is almost out of date now.

"But a minister's life is a struggle of finances all the time, and the worry and deprivation wears him out. Seeing other men go into business and make successes makes the minister think of his lot, with a result that many have left the pulpit and, although leading pious and good lives, mingle with the business world for their financial betterment. The ministry should be [illegible] more strongly, and to accomplish this larger salaries must be paid."

Set Date for Opening San Leandro's School

There is no change in the faculty [illegible] this with one exception, that of Miss Gill, who has resigned. Her place will be taken by Miss Mary A. Cann of Oakland.

JURISTS HAVE A BIG PUZZLE TO SOLVE IN AVIATION

Customs Dodgers, Smugglers, Spies and Their Ilk Can Use Airship.

MATTER OF TRESPASS OFFERS NO SOLUTION

Who Owns the Air? Somebody Has to Decide on That.

LONDON, July 18.—Statesmen, judges and lawyers would appear to have a busy time before them in view of the progress of aviation. With the advent of flying machines people will be able to invade foreign countries without any regard to customs, passports, etc. Smugglers and spies are chuckling, while private property will be no longer [illegible] ships flying over [illegible] landing at will. Publishers and [illegible] little time [illegible] and various [illegible] of the peace committed [illegible] there is the possibility of [illegible] collisions with [illegible] the sooner special laws [illegible] and otherwise—the [illegible] the better.

As a matter of fact, although no aviator has yet been arrested or prosecuted for illegal flying, an English committee has been formed to consider laws on the subject, while the [illegible] writing a treaty between the United States and Mexico is being submitted to the Senate at Washington which provides for the punishment of [illegible] aerial raider as smuggler or pirate.

WHO OWNS THE AIR?

A committee was also formed in France some six months ago to [illegible] [illegible] of lawyers, and [illegible] similar committees in such countries as Germany, Belgium, Spain, Italy, Russia and Austria-Hungary. These committees are chiefly concerned in devising international laws which will prevent trouble arising through aviators flying over or landing in foreign countries. The suggestion is that the air over inhabited States and including the three-mile limit of the sea should be free subject to the right of the State over which the space exists to take any proper and necessary steps for the protection of inhabitants.

These committees really arose through a Paris journalist some time ago calling attention to the fact that fifteen dirigible balloons containing military officers and soldiers had made landings on French soil and suggesting that ballooning to a trained man offered an excellent opportunity to make interesting observations of forts and other private matters.

AERIAL SPIES

About the same time a Silesian dirigible sailed along close to the Russian frontier and whether by accident or design five shots whizzed around the aerostat. The latter was flying the German flag and landed safely on German soil. Had it been hit, however, trouble might have ensued.

The possibilities are, of course, that the Russians would have tried to prove he was a spy. As a matter of fact, Europe is in a fever about aerial spies and with some reason. A bird can see a lot more in a given time than a man on the ground. Military [illegible] pervious to plod [illegible] enthusiasts for such things on the earth would become common knowledge in no time to aeronauts or balloonists armed with field glasses and telephoto cameras.

THE THREE MILE LIMIT

Then there is another curious point. Suppose an aviator is flying high over a foreign country and damages a person or building beneath him by dropping something. Is it going to deal with him if caught according to the laws of the country over which he was flying?

The three mile limit is thoroughly established for the sea and it is universally admitted that whatever occurs within that distance from the shore come within the competency of the courts on land. It will, therefore, [illegible] that it will be held that in airships whatever distance it may be from the earth is by reason of its position within the jurisdiction of the local authorities.

MORE PECULIAR POINTS

Here is another peculiar point. As is always [illegible] the move and travels [illegible] direct current [illegible] flows [illegible] [illegible] balloonist [illegible] is on his property [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] the pos[illegible] other. Would [illegible] Or [illegible] liable [illegible]

Congregation Prays; Invalid Recovering

KANSAS CITY, July 18.—The entire congregation of the Church of God offered prayer yesterday for the recovery of Paul Bell, who was stricken Tuesday with infantile paralysis, but who has shown unusual signs of improvement since the night of the attack, when his parents devoted many hours to praying for his recovery.

Many, it is said, have become interested in the creed of the Church of God and a number of inquiries were made yesterday regarding the belief of its members.

'Ballet of Light' Feature Act of Good Bill at Orpheum

DICKIE FULLER with Loie Fuller's "Ballet of Light" at the Oakland Orpheum

There are big doings at the Oakland Orpheum this week. The show that started yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock went at lightning speed for three hours, leaving the crowds at the finish saturated with delight. The new show proved to be one of those gorgeous affairs that come seldom and when they do get started stir the town up to a point where the theater is taxed to capacity to take care of the thousands. There is not a dull moment nor a dark spot on the vaudeville bill. It comes close to being the star bill of the season.

Loie Fuller's name proved a magnet for the crowds who waited until the end of the show for the "Ballet of Light," which had been announced as Miss Fuller's contribution to the program. They say this spectacle was taken in act from one of the big opera productions at the Metropolitan Opera House in New York, where Miss Fuller attended to the details of its staging personally. It has all the signs and earmarks of a Loie Fuller dancing specialty. That means that it fairly glitters with strength. The electrical effects are superb, the effect of the entire affair is dazzling.

Picture eight pretty maidens, girlish and daintily clad in gossamer silk robe, dancing barefooted and with the lithe grace of wood nymph, while colored electric lights play upon them from above, from below, from the sides and from the front, all combining to make a spectacle that gives one a veritable feast for the eyes.

HAVE FINE SKETCH

Will M. Cressy and Blanche Dayne are back with a fine sketch. Cressy wrote it himself—that is a guarantee of just how good it is. When told that the sketch is a sequel to "Town Hall Tonight," and that it has more laughs in it and funny situations and bright wit than even "Town Hall Tonight" boasts, one gains some idea of the worth of the new play. It is called "One Night Only." Cressy again takes the character of "Hip Flitter," the Pooh Bah of the village one-horse. It is a character that Cressy has made classic. It is rich with dry fun and most amusing comedy touches. The audience laughed yesterday until it was helpless and at the finish gave Cressy a burst of palm pounding that showed how big a hit he and Miss Dayne scored.

There is another one of those splendid animal acts on the bill this week—an importation which the Orpheum Company made from Europe and it is one of the best of the year. Capt. Gruber is in charge. His star performer, Miss Minnie, a big elephant, becomes close to showing human intelligence as she prances around the stage, performing tricks that no elephant ever was known to do before. There are ponies in the act and other features as well, but Miss Minnie is easily the bright particular star of the act.

DOG MAKES HIT

Two new comers are John Delmore and Emily Darrel. They have a pretty sketch, a funny affair in which they depict some of the troubles of the traveling Thespian. They work on the bare stage, apparently going there for a rehearsal. Nothing is arranged for them and they proceed to fix up their own dressing room. A bulldog who carries Miss Darrell's clothes to her was good enough in his lines to score a hit on his own account. Delmore and Darrell with their bright talk and smart singing more than got away with their share of applause.

The Aeroplane Girl is still with the show. Miss Whitford, the beautiful actress, continues to sing a Brinkley Girl melody and at the finish climbs in an aeroplane and while the house is all dark, glides over the heads of the audience. Mr. Hanke himself a wonderful artist, plays while Miss Whitford sings and registers a triumph on his own account.

De Lion, the man who handles a dozen billiard balls and performs a series of wonderful tricks, remains on the program.

The show opens with the Five Olympians, who represent human statuary in a variety of poses.

DOWIE FOLLOWERS DONATE TO VOLIVA

Foot and One-Half of Coin and Bills Thrown Into Barrel Before Pulpit.

CHICAGO, July 18.—Silver coins and bills a foot and a half deep were thrown into a tricolored barrel placed before the pulpit at Zion City tabernacle yesterday by the followers of Wilbur Glenn Voliva, general overseer of the Christian Catholic Apostolic Church of Zion and successor to John Alexander Dowie, who marched through the north shore city and took formal possession of the buildings which his followers came into their own through the action of the federal court in dissolving the receivership.

It was like a revival of the old days of [illegible] [illegible] the [illegible] offering [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] the barrel that stood before the pulpit and cast therein their offerings, ranging from five-cent pieces to [illegible] bills.

"It cured me," or "It saved the life of my child," are the expressions you hear every day about Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. This is true the world over where this valuable remedy has been introduced. No other medicine in use for diarrhoea or bowel complaints has received such general approval. The secret of the success of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy is that it cures. Sold by Owl Drug Stores.

MACHINE MAKES DATES FOR YOU

It Only Costs You Five Cents, at That; It's the Latest.

LOS ANGELES, July 18.—Here's the latest! A machine that makes dates—and helps you keep them. Each date you make costs you five cents and the method is simplicity itself. You leave your message. The person it is intended for reads it and leaves an answer naming a meeting place.

A slot on either side of the cabinet, which is eight feet high, two feet wide and four feet long, permits the insertion of a nickel and by pressing a lever on the right side of a metal box a sheet of white paper is disclosed on which the message may be written. Pressing a second lever on the left side of the box brings the message into view in a runway holding places for ten others, each alternated by an advertisement printed on a space of the white paper of the same size as allotted to the message.

When all of the ten spaces are filled with messages an attendant removes the strip of paper on which they are written and it is placed in full view of everyone upon a revolving cylinder labeled beneath in large letters "TODAY."

There the strip containing the messages is permitted to remain twenty-four hours, when it is removed to another revolving cylinder labeled "Tuesday," "Wednesday," or whatever day the message was written and placed in the cabinet and permitted to remain a week for inspection by the person for whom it is intended.

LINIMENT BURNS MAN

John Chalk, a San Franciscan, yesterday discovered that liniment which works magic in bovine ailments is worse than worthless on human beings. He spilled a quantity of stuff intended for cows on his right arm and suffering intensely from blistered skin went to the Receiving Hospital last evening for treatment.

WAR SKY CLEARS, DECLARES WOOD

Major General Sees No Clouds, But Objects to Army of Veteran Soldiers.

NEW YORK, July 18.—Major General Leonard Wood, who has been commander of the department of the East, left Governor's Island today for Washington to get into touch with affairs before taking up his new duties as chief of staff of the army.

"As long as a standing army is required in this country and the laws provide for the maintenance of such an army," said General Wood, "it should be a young, active and aggressive army. As it exists today it may be described as an army of veterans. When such is the case there is danger of loss of enthusiasm. The soldier who has seen from five to twenty years service does not accept instructions as readily as the recruit.

"We are acquiring no reserve of experienced men. Unless [illegible] service is practiced in some other countries would not be accepted in the United States."

DISCHARGED MAN HELD FOR MURDER

Foreman of Construction Camp Killed by Midnight Assassin.

MADRAS, Ore., July 18.—Andrew Melrich, night foreman, was shot to death at the Porter and Connolly construction camp on the Oregon Trunk Line company's line Saturday. After a pursuit by a posse headed by Sheriff Elkins, T. Prerich was arrested in connection with the shooting.

Prerich was discharged by Melrich Saturday and it is alleged that Prerich during the night crept up behind the foreman at the camp near Warm Springs ferry and fired the shot which caused Melrich's death.

CHAUTAUQUA FORUM CLOSES

S.S.S. NO HARMFUL MINERALS PURELY VEGETABLE

There are certain mineral medicines which will temporarily remove the external symptoms of Contagious Blood Poison, and shut the disease up in the system for awhile, but when the treatment is left off the trouble always returns in worse form. But that is not all, the delicate membranes and tissues of the stomach and bowels are usually injured by these strong minerals, and frequently stomach trouble, chronic dyspepsia, and mercurial rheumatism are added to the destructive blood poison. S. S. S. is the only remedy that can be used with perfect safety in the treatment of Contagious Blood Poison, and with the assurance that a lasting cure will result. This medicine made entirely of non-injurious roots, herbs and barks of recognized curative and tonic value, removes every particle of the virus from the circulation, and by enriching and strengthening the blood removes every symptom permanently. S. S. S. does not hide or cover up the disease in any way, but cures it by removing it from the system. Home Treatment Book and any medical advice free to all who write.

BLOT MATCHES ATTELL AND WOLGAST FOR SEPTEMBER CARD

Freddy Welsh Is Seeking a Match With Packy McFarland

LOUIS BLOT SIGNS UP CRACK FIGHTERS

Chubby Manager Will Stage Attell and Wolgast During Month of September

By EDDIE SMITH.

THE match that Louie Blot has in view for the September week of the Native Sons in San Francisco is a good one, in fact it is a great one, and for that reason it is hoped that the chubby young promoter will be able to land it. Louie has an ideal arena and there is not the slightest doubt but that a boxing contest staged within such easy distance of the heart of the city would pay well on any day that he selects during the celebration of California's inauguration into the Union. Abe Attell and Adolph Wolgast are the men he has in view and in them he has the premier feather weight and light weight of the world. Wolgast and Attell met in a ten-round no decision contest at Los Angeles some two years ago and the Milwaukee German gave the clever little Hebrew a good time. Abe had a shade at the end of the ten rounds, but Wolgast has always claimed that with a few more rounds to go he would have put the foxy Abe down for the count. At the time of their last meeting Wolgast was much of a kid, in fact he had only been boxing about two years. At that time he also weighed the same as Attell, 1[illegible] pounds, while now he is a full fledged light weight. Abe is and for that matter has been for some time anxious to try his hand at copping the light weight title and for that reason he will allow the German to come in at 133 pounds at the ringside, although he will only weigh about 1[illegible]2 pounds.

* * *

Aside from the fact that the championship title would be a great thing to fight for and to defend, Wolgast and Attell have a none too kindly feeling for one another. It appears that Attell has said that Wolgast is a fighter of circumstance and that he would never have been champion if it were not for the fact that he happened to catch Nelson when the Dane was not at his best, whereas Wolgast has said that Attell is a runaway fighter whose punches resemble the kicking of a humming bird. Manager Tom Jones, who acts for Wolgast, has said that he will send the new champion against any fighter the local promoters can secure for him, providing the man is not too big, so it would seem that if Attell is willing Blot will secure a good card. It is certainly the hope of the fans that he does, for Louie and his fellow club members are out a lot of money on the building of the new arena and this will give them a chance to get out. That is if they don't have to give too much money in the matter of a purse.

* * *

From across the big drink comes the information that Jem Driscoll, England's greatest master of fisticuffs, is in a bad way regarding his health, some of the fans there having it that the champion feather weight is suffering from the white plague. Driscoll is one of the greatest boxers at present in the game and it would be a great disappointment to his friends and a loss to the game if he is to pass out without having another try at the world's championship. At the present time Driscoll is dividing that honor with Abe Attell. Abe is the champion feather weight of America and has been recognized here as the world's champion, while the same might be said of Driscoll, for in England they refer to him as the champion of the world. The pair met once in a ten round no-decision bout in New York and the fact that the papers there gave Driscoll the better of the bout on points has strengthened his claim to the title, but Attell stands ready to meet the Britisher again and will give him a side bet if necessary. Driscoll is the man who taught Freddy Welsh the game of boxing and is himself so clever that he forced Attell to do the slugging in their contest in the hope of winning. Any man who can outpoint Attell is some boxer and surely we are missing a treat if it proves impossible to have the Britisher to visit our little neck of the woods. As to his illness we are very hopeful that the report that the white plague has taken hold of Driscoll is wrong and that he will be able to visit our shores again.

* * *

Freddie Welsh and Packey McFarland are again working up to a match. Jimmy Britt is managing McFarland and is doing all he can to make the match, but the Welshman is a foxy lad and he is stalling Jimmy off in nice style. From the stage Freddie wants a match, but when Britt goes after him the Britisher asks things that he knows Britt and McFarland will not agree to. McFarland and Welsh have fought three times now, Packey winning once and the other bouts being declared draws.

* * *

Poor old England is again looking for a good heavy weight. They have been trying to produce a good big fighting man ever since the writer can remember, but each and every one has in his turn fallen down just when the people of the tight little isle thought he was good enough to win a championship. The fans there are now predicting that Bombadier Wells will be the man to eventually beat Jack Johnson. If this is to be the fact they had better send him to this country and let him learn to fight a bit before sending him against any of the good ones.

That day is now!

Shortly after his election to the Presidency Theodore Roosevelt visited Oakland. In a letter written in Oakland at that time to a friend in Washington he said: "Oakland is a city just across the bay from San Francisco where one finds the soft air of Italy and the beauty of English villages combined with a spirit of Western Progress and commercial advantages which will some day, as far as I am able to judge from my limited investigations, make it the greatest railroad terminal on the Pacific Coast." That time is now.

BESIDES the remarkable investment and ideal home opportunities to be had in bustling, beautiful Oakland, this city, with its perfect public school system, including elementary, grammar and high schools, offers educational advantages second to none. Oakland is also noted for its many colleges—technical, business and professional. Adjoining Oakland is the University of California, the second largest in the United States. SUNDAY BASEBALL IS TABOOED AT ELMIRA

Sheriff Day of New York State Arrests Violaters of Closing Law.

ELMIRA, N. Y., July 18.—The New York State league game between Elmira and Syracuse was stopped yesterday by Sheriff Day, who arrested four of the local players on the charge of violating the law against Sunday baseball.

A sacred concert preceded the ball game. Admission was charged to the grand stand. It was concluded [illegible] announcement was made that the gate would be closed for five minutes to allow any one who so wished to leave the grounds. When the five minutes were up the gate was closed and an attempt made to play the game.

As soon as Mack had thrown the first ball Sheriff Day arrested him and the catcher. James Nagle and John Clough, the regular batters, were sent in, and as soon as the ball was thrown they too were placed under arrest. No further attempt was made to play the game. The men were released on bail.

Will Make a Fight to Have Boxing at Big Olympic Games

LONDON, July 18.—Although the International Olympic committee at the last meeting in Luxemburg provisionally tabooed boxing as one of the sports in the Olympic games for 1912 in Stockholm, it is believed that glove contests between fighters of international renown will be included upon the program.

The suggestion to having boxing included as a sport was made by an English minister, the Rev. Dr. S. DeCourcy Laffan, who is an ardent boxer himself. At the time the suggestion was made the committee was busily engaged in deciding the program of such sports as polo, football, tennis, lacrosse and rugby, so that boxing was sacrificed for the time being.

I have asked the Rev. Dr. Laffan for a statement as to his attitude toward boxing. He forwarded me the following reply:

"After my efforts to have boxing listed as one of the popular sports in the next Olympic my attitude should be generally known. However, assuming that you do not know it I shall say that I am heartily in favor of the sport. Boxing with me is a tradition of the brawn and manhood of Great Britain. Boxing is a noble sport which has been condemned not on account of the sport in itself but through conditions and circumstances which it engenders. Should I don the boxing gloves with a friend and should we even bet upon the outcome there is no harm in our act so far as boxing is concerned. But should I enter the prize ring where the public mingles and bets and often times allows its feelings and temper to run away with its moral discretion—then that is wrong. I believe that boxing will be a part of the program in 1912 in Stockholm."

The following season saw another triple steal worked successfully and by a queer coincidence the Athletics again figured in the play, but this time they were on the losing end. Lord, Speaker and Gessler, then of Boston but now of the Senators, were the lads to work the trick April 26, 1909. The Philadelphia National League club did not like the idea of the Philadelphia American League club having the honor of figuring in every triple steal worked, so they pulled off the play against the Cincinnatis at Cincinnati, May 10, this year.

SWAIN TO JOIN WASHINGTON

SEATTLE, July 18.—Charles Swain, [illegible] of the Northwestern league, will probably become a member of the Washington team in the American league within a few weeks. He has been tipped off to McAleer by Cliff Blankenship, the Tacoma manager, who was Washington's catcher for several seasons. Blankenship's endorsement was so strong that McAleer at once began dickering for Swain, who is Vancouver's right fielder.

WESTMINSTER TEAM WINS

NEW WESTMINSTER, B. C., July 18.—By the score of ten goals to four the Westminster lacrosse team, champions of Canada, yesterday afternoon defeated Montreal in the first of two matches for the championship of the Minto cup. The contest was witnessed by a crowd estimated at 11,000.

* * *

WINS ELKS CUP

DETROIT, Mich., July 18.—Caro II, owned by Robert Demming of Cleveland but representing the Detroit Motorboat club, easily won the Elks gold challenge cup, valued at $1000, over the Belle Isle measured course yesterday afternoon. The victory also carried with it possession of the $500 Walker cup.

The winners' time for the 40 miles was 1 hour 17 minutes and [illegible] seconds.

VETERAN DRIVER DROP DEAD

WINNIPEG, Manitoba, July 18.—Bob Simmons, a veteran American driver, dropped dead Saturday evening after driving Beulah R. to victory at Exhibition track. He was 65 years old and for 45 years was a driver. Simmons was well known in Montana and other western states.

Outfielder Red Kelley, the Notre Dame recruit, is not playing with the White Sox, having been suspended by the National Commission pending an investigation of Holyoke's claim that he accepted terms with that club a year ago.

* * *

Harvard plans to engage Fred Tenney as professional baseball coach next year. The position, it is said, will be worth as much as $3[illegible]00 a year to the former Giant star. Besides, Tenney in his spare moments would be provided with remunerative work.

* * *

George Cuppy, former Cleveland pitcher, has taken to trap shooting. He is president and captain of the Elkhart, Ind., Gun club and is the club's best shot. Cuppy has become a rotund, prosperous citizen. He weighs 2[illegible]0, which is 60 pounds more than when he pitched for Cleveland. He has waxed wealthy as proprietor of a hotel in Logansport, Ind.

First baseman Daubert of Brooklyn has been laid up with a lame arm.

* * *

Pitcher Louis Drucke of the Giants is coming steadily. He has worked hard on the fadeaway curve made famous by Mathewson and he has mastered it thoroughly.

* * *

When Josh Devore was punished for his part in the chastising of the gallant Brooklyn rooters who abused Devlin, it was the first time in his career he was put out of a game.

* * *

* * *

The New York club has signed catcher Joseph J. Walsh, who was just graduated from Villanova, where he distinguished himself by his phenomenal work on both the football and baseball fields.

* * *

Artie Hofman of the Cubs played eight innings at first base on June 4 without getting a putout. Pshaw, any other first baseman could make the same record in nine innings—if he wanted to.

* * *

Ginger Beaumont, the Cubs' pinch hitter, is certainly the season's Col. Pinch. He has won many a game for Chance's team when he has been sent in to break it up or clinch it for the Cubs.

* * *

Pitcher Bugs Raymond of the Giants has not decided what he will do. McGraw, it is said, will not let him play with the Giants for several weeks at any rate, neither will he let him play with any other club.

* * *

Pitcher Mordecai Brown has made all his hits this season up to July against the Reds—three in one game and two in another. If he hadn't been sent against Cliff's team his batting record would look like a flock of shark eggs.

* * *

The management of the Cincinnati club announced last week that the Hippodrome Company would close its attraction at the ball park because the fans and stockholders objected to the damage wrought upon the playing field. Ball management there as the diamonds at Philadelphia, Pittsburg and other points have not been injured in the least.

* * *

The Cleveland club has been having some trouble with the Federation of Labor over the use of non-union score cards and other printed matter. The club is not at fault as it cannot honorably annul a contract made before the agreement with the Union was entered into. The matter will doubtless be amicably adjusted through the personal efforts of President Ban Johnson.

Three C League

The San Mateo and Traffic teams of the Three C League engaged in a sixteen inning game at San Mateo yesterday, the home team winning out by 6 to 5.

Girot twirled the entire game for the winners. Alegart, the Santa Clara star, was on the mound for the Traffics from the fifth inning to the finish. The score was tied from the eighth inning until the sixteenth, when the Traffics made one run on errors, a couple of walks and a single by Burke. In the home team's half of the sixteenth two errors by Mitchell allowed a run to score and put a runner on second. Eddie Benn then came through with a timely single that sent over the winning run. The score:

MRS. YOUNG IS IN FAVOR OF FIGHT PICTURES

Famous Educator Says Cry Against Them Is Caused by Hysteria.

CHICAGO, July 18.—Mrs. Ella Flagg Young, recently elected president of the National Educational Association, superintendent of the Chicago public schools and the most prominent woman educator in America, believes that the moving pictures of the Jeffries-Johnson fight should be showed and exhibited throughout the country. In discussing the subject today Mrs. Young said:

"I see no harm in exhibition of the Jeffries-Johnson fight pictures. I believe that the agitation against them is a form of hysteria. Theodore Roosevelt entertained prize fighters at the White House and put on the boxing gloves with them. Mr. Taft has done the same. Anything that tends to the physical development of the youth of the land is a benefit. I do not believe in brutality. If the pictures of this fight are in any way repulsive they should be suppressed. But for the life of me I cannot see how there is anything degrading in two scientific boxers battling for a championship. I believe that our youth should be taught to become strong and healthy men. Boxing is one form of exercise that develops all the latent talent in them. I do not believe in fighting for money, of course. I do not believe in the prize ring, but to say that the pictures of a fight will degrade the morals of the community is ridiculous. I do believe in boys knowing how to box and how to defend themselves. It makes them think quick and act quick and aids their health."

Sam Hildreth Has Won $41,000 on the Track So Far This Year

NEW YORK, July 18.—James R. Keene and S. C. Hildreth are fighting it along neck and neck for the honor of heading the list of winning owners for the season. Including the races run on Saturday less than $1000 separated the two, but Mr. Hildreth is at the top with a total of $41,000, having passed Mr. Keene early last week, thanks largely to Dalmatian, which won the Sea Gate stakes on Wednesday and the Iroquois stakes on Friday.

August Belmont is a close third with $3[illegible],000 in round numbers to his credit, while E. T. Wilson Jr. is fourth on the list with about $31,000.

Stanford Authorities Sanction Soccer

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, July 18.—Prof. H. W. Maloney, instructor in physical training, has been finally successful in having the game of soccer recognized as a regular sport. He has placed the two Stanford soccer teams up for membership to the California soccer league.

Maloney expects to have each team play a game every week, alternating between the campus and the visitors' fields. This will mean that at least one game will be played each week and the local lovers of soccer will be able to witness plenty of the new sport.

There will be seven teams in the field this [illegible] and this will mean a fourteen weeks season starting early in September. The winner of each division will meet in final competition for possession of a prize cup that is given annually to the winners.

The game was played this year at Stanford for the first time and it won a place in the hearts of the under classmen. Professor Maloney is enthusiastic over the prospect of having two teams, a senior and a junior, and expects to turn out two strong contenders for championship honors.

GAELIC CLUB HAS CLASSY FIELD EVENTS

Sons of Erin Make Merry and Indulge in Athletics at Shellmound.

Keen competition marked the annual games of the Original Gaelic Dancing Club at Shellmound Park yesterday. The handicaps in the running events were well balanced and each winner had to exert himself to the utmost to secure the places that carried medals with them. Several novel events peculiar to Irish athletes were on the program and excited a great deal of interest among the big crowd that filled the bleachers.

Perhaps the most interesting of these was throwing the 56-pound weight over bar for height. Pat Donovan, the Irish American Athletic Club's young giant, gave away liberal handicaps and won by heaving the heavy ball over the bar at 14 feet 1[illegible] inches. Donovan tried to get it over at 15 feet, but although he got the missile high enough to clear the bar his direction was poor and in each of his three tries the ball hit the bar and knocked it off the upright.

The 1 mile handicap was a tussle all the way. Williams of the Olympic club established a good lead before half the distance had been covered and just managed to last long enough to win first place by two yards from Sullivan, the clever runner from the Visitacion Valley club, who came with a great burst of speed at the finish. The handicaps were too severe for Craig, the scratch man, and he had to be content with fourth place.

Dan Riordan, the Irish American club's long distance runner, tried a short route yesterday. He was given the liberal allowance of thirty yards in the 440-yard handicap and won out by a yard from Carroll of the Pastimes after a hard race.

The Pastime club created some surprise by defeating the Olympic club's relay team in a hotly contested 4-lap race. Hupp took a good lead in the first lap and his team mates held it to the finish, Meading just breasting the tape 6 feet ahead of Joy.

The events were run off in good style, the officials of the day being: Referee, William Minehan; judges, Herbert Hauser, George Middleton and Douglas Erskine; timers, Charles H. Minto and Charles Macdonald; starter, George James; announcers, P. J. Kelleher and Frank Berst.

SENATORS WIN SERIES FROM SAN FRANCISCO BALL TEAM

Oakland Does Well in the North, Breaking Even With the Beavers

SENATORS KEEP UP SPURT; WIN SERIES FROM SEALS

Morning Game Is a Seals Victory, but Afternoon Contest Is Annexed by Graham's Men

A close decision which called for a loud demonstration of disapproval on the part of the fans who had pulled throughout several innings of anxiety for the home team, settled the series for the Sacramento players at Recreation Park yesterday afternoon. It was in the hoodoo frame that Danzig beat in a close one and Van Haltren called him safe. There was immediately a storm of protest from the field and on the bleachers and Van Haltren was called anything but a nice fellow. However, there were a number in the 5000 audience close by who state that the decision was a fair one, and it certainly appeared to be so, for Danzig himself did not think there was any necessity for a slide and he just stepped over the plate as if he were going over first on a three bagger.

For three innings things went along smoothly, it seeming that both teams would succeed in running up a string of goose eggs. In the fourth the fireworks started when Burns made a safe hit, followed closely by Perry, Danzig and Boardman. All four finally scored. This was too much for the management and Eastley was called down from the mound and replaced by Miller, who was followed by Stewart. Their adversaries, however, suffered the same humiliation, for Baum got the gal in the fifth and was replaced by Fitzgerald, who finished the day. Those four straight hits were likewise duplicated by the Seals in the next inning when they got busy with the bat. Bodie, Lewis and Berry in succession went the rounds of the bases. Altogether five straight ones were made off Baum and Fitzgerald was then put in.

Perry and Heister fumbled McArdle's fly, bringing in Bodie. The bases were all left full and Miller hit to right, bringing in Lewis.

Three runs in the fifth put the Seals in the running and then there was nothing more doing until the seventh, when Lewis caught one of Fitzgerald's curves and lined the ball over the fence in right. It looked for a moment as if it would fall into the hands of Briggs, who waited like a boy under a tree for the fall of an apple. However, it lingered for a moment, then striking a brace, fell into obscurity. Hands dropped and Lewis made a record-breaking turn about the diamond, tying the score. Things were wild for a while and then the bleachers, as well as the players, went back to the ordinary.

For six more innings a row of ciphers were lined up and the figures on the fence remained unchanged. It was nip and tussle for both sides as the honors had been evened up in the morning and that one little run meant a good deal.

When the unlucky thirteenth came along the superstitious expected there would be something doing and they were not disappointed. The Seals came near to scoring but not quite, as Berry failed to hit sufficiently to allow Bodie, who was on third, to reach the bag. Then, with the change, Perry lined out to McArdle. Danzig followed with a two-bagger, completing his perfect record for the day. Boardman went out and the proposition was up to Briggs, who singled one out over center where Lewis waited for it. He gathered it in neatly and the ball was passed on to the plate, where Danzig was heading for. Berry gathered it in, but not in time to save the run, for Umpire Van Haltren could not see that Danzig had been beat with the ball. Although the Seals made a brave attempt, they were out of luck and the inning closed without them again tying the score.

While for a time it appeared as if the Senators would carry the game without a struggle, the Seals made a strong fight and with a battle with the pitchers, in which several of them were relegated to the bench, the game was something more than the ordinary. In spite of the feeling of resentment against Van Haltren the crowd went away with the satisfaction of having witnessed one of the best games of the season.

Browning was back in his old form in the morning game at Freeman's park, Oakland, and he had the Senators going south throughout the affray trying to straighten out his curves. Three hits, two of which came in the opening inning, was all the good the visitors could do. It was too much Browning throughout, and there was never a time when the Senatorial aggregation looked to have a chance.

Whalen was touched up rather freely in the sixth frame, when a quartet of hits earned two runs. Bodie came nearer the world's record mark in the fifth frame by pounding the ball out of the lot for another homer.

Baseball Editorials

Tomorrow will find the Oaks back on the old preserves ready to give the Angels all the battle they are looking for. The series just finished between the Beavers and the representatives of our grand old town were not as encouraging as the fans were expecting, still the boys did their best, therefore we should not complain. While the writer has been placed in the pessimistic class he still has faith in the Oaks and figures that they are going to get out of the groove sooner or later. Like all good clubs, they have been beset with hard luck during the last four weeks, but that cannot last all the time, therefore this reaction will sooner or later set in and then I look for the Wolverines to come back, and to come back good and strong.

When a man can go in and pitch a three-hit game even if he does lose it, that is a sign that he still has something left and that the jinks cannot stay with him always. When another man can hold a club to two hits as has Moser and Willis and Nelson, those men are bound to win, therefore let all of us get out next week with the great big boost for the Oaks.

* * *

The coming of Frank Dillon and his greatly rejuvenated Angels is looked for with delight, for here is a team that is the equal of any minor league team in the whole country and the fans know that they are to see baseball as it is, when the Berryites are cavorting on the field. Recently the Angels have been going great guns; in fact, there have been few, mighty few, clubs that have made the record the Angels have in baseball. Starting on June 14, they gave the Seals a battle royal for the series, breaking even on the home grounds of the Ewingites. Then then took our boys and gave them a lacing, winning six out of the seven played, which we have to acknowledge is some feat in baseball. Next came the Senators for a trimming of seven games out of nine played. Week before last they caused Danny Long many sleepless nights by trimming his pets five out of the seven played and what they have done to Happy Hogan's crew last week is still fresh in the minds of the fans. Game after game has been won from the Hooligans and the record of the Angels from June 14th to date has been twenty-one won and eleven lost. Can you beat it?

* * *

The writer is going to bring criticism down on his head when he declares that he does not think there is a baseball pitcher in the United States today in minor league circles, and few in the major league circles, that has it on Walter Nagle. By reviewing his connections with the national game for the last ten years, one cannot fail to see that he has a most wonderful record as a ball player. Then they will ask why hasn't he been signed by some major league ball team? Simply because Nagle's work has had nothing of the sensational about it. He has played baseball with his head. Plays that would be difficult for another pitcher to make have been easy for him. He times the distance a ball is going to travel, he figures every batter's weak point and then acts with a quickness that is precision in itself. The writer remembers ten years ago, when Nagle first broke into the game and pitched for Henry Harris. In that first game men that sat next to me asked, "Who is this busher? He hasn't got anything." Then the players would tell me, "He ain't got anything." Still he kept right on winning and winning, and today has won over .650 percentage of the games he has pitched since he played professional baseball.

Referring to his record this year, it compares favorably with any man in the country, barring none. Since the opening of the season Nagle has won 16 and lost 5 for the Angels and we must remember that the club has been in the second division all of that time except during the last week or so. Truly Nagle is a wonderful pitcher, a credit to baseball and one man that will always be remembered because he played baseball as it should be played and with but one object in view, to win.

NEGLECT
DISEASE

In my very extensive practice I have learned that the MANY SERIOUS and so-called "incurable cases" are due usually to NEGLECT AND DELAY. Again I know that many men suffer for YEARS and practically RUIN THEIR HEALTH FOR EVER trying to dose themselves with some patent nostrum that never could cure. And further, it is evident that many men will run to what they call "cheap" treatment. NO TREATMENT AT ALL "cheap" treatment means in nine cases out of ten.

DR. PALMER,
Master Specialist

The last state of the man is worse than the first. Just before you go a line further this announcement stop and ask yourself as to whether YOU are following in the foolish steps of the man who NEGLECTS himself. Are you trying to cure yourself with nostrums? If you are, it is certain that you will regret it. It is NEVER TOO LATE to get in the right path, but at the same time remember that you CANNOT GET THERE TOO SOON. I offer you my treatment at a cost as low as is consistent for the services rendered. I AM ALWAYS WILLING TO WAIT FOR MY FEE UNTIL A CURE IS EFFECTED.

FANS AT BAY VIEW WITNESS GREAT BALL GAME

Raymond Club Is Defeated by Junctions, 22 to 19.

Before an assemblage of fully 1500 people the Junction and Raymond baseball nines crossed bats at Bay View Park, in West Oakland yesterday in a game full of excitement and ginger, which finally terminated in a victory for the former by a score of 22 to 19. The Junctions obtained an early advantage by scoring 11 runs in the first two innings, but from then on Pitcher Schrieb held them down pretty well. In the ninth inning the Raymonds made a desperate effort to overcome the lead of their opponents by tallying 6 runs, but the early handicap of the victors was too great to master.

Among the many features of the game was the sensational stop by Pitcher Gerald Lawler of a terrific drive by Hillam in the fifth inning, putting the batter out at first. Madsack's heavy stick work was also a feature.

William Walsh, the father of Bay View Park, pitched the first ball. His delivery demonstrated a keen knowledge of the game. Supervisor John F. Mullins, through whose successful efforts, when a member of the city council, the park was finally filled in, officiated with Matt McKiernan of Engine Company No. 5 as umpire. The umpiring of both gentlemen met with hearty approval, for although called on many times to render close decisions, at no time was their judgment question, but, on the contrary, were time and again applauded by the enthusiastic spectators.

Among the enthusiasts present were noticed Senator F. W. Leavitt, former Councilman George Fitzgerald, William Walsh, Joseph Raymond, Frank Garrison, Councilman M. R. Bronte, D. F. McCarthy, George Janorin, John Kelly, Thomas McKiernan and Baird Boyle. After the game a sumptuous banquet was given in William Walsh Hall on Peralta street, at which covers were spread for 100 people. Gerald Lawler officiated as toastmaster. Short speeches were delivered by George Fitzgerald, David Bowie, Joseph Lanella, Joseph Raymond and John B. McKiernan. Music was furnished by a quartet composed of George Janorin, William Stahl, Dave Johnson and Thomas Lawler.

The score.

EASTERN BASEBALL NOTES

Manager McGraw's pitching staff is at last, as a whole, beginning to show class.

* * *

"Young King" Cole, the Cub pitcher, is still fooling the National League heavy hitters.

* * *

* * *

* * *

* * *

* * *

* * *

Paskert, Beecher, Lobert and Egan, of Cincinnati, are among the six leading base-runners in this league.

* * *

First baseman Flynn, of the Pirates, is out of the hospital, but he will not be able to play for some time.

* * *

Up to date 21 players have been fined and suspended in the National League for trouble with umpires.

* * *

* * *

Pitcher Barger, of Brooklyn, isn't the personification of poetic grace on the mound, but he can handle that sphere.

* * *

The Philadelphia club has signed pitcher Roy Gill, of the Missouri University team. He is a brother of the well-known first baseman, Warren Gill.

* * *

Pitcher Bill Burns' splendid work for Cincinnati has aroused wonder all over this circuit how he escaped the American League waiver gauntlet.

* * *

The Giants on June 27 wore a new style of hose—white, with one broad black stripe. They celebrated the new departure with a defeat by the Phillies.

Buttons Briggs, for years a star pitcher of the Cubs, now runs a saloon in Cleveland, and no longer has any ambition, so far as ball playing is concerned.

* * *

The Boston Nationals refused to waive on pitcher Barberich, whom the Boston Americans sent to Providence until it was learned he was subject to recall.

Washington's ball team is to be reconstructed. Jim McAleer's plans are to add all the young blood that he can secure before the next campaign opens.

* * *

Pitcher Jake Weimer, recently given his unconditional release by the New York Giants, has signed with the Standards, an independent team at Joliet, Ill.

Bancroft and Griffith, of the Cincinnati club, while in Chicago last week, inspected the new Chicago American League park and pronounced it the "wonder of the baseball world." President Robison, of St. Louis, has frequently inspected the new park to get pointers for the new buildings he has in contemplation.

* * *

President Lynch, with his undeviating policy of umpire support, is gradually subduing the rowdies and kickers, of whom but few are left in the senior league.

* * *

Pitcher Ralph Good, of Colby University, has joined the Boston team. He hails from Monticello, Me., is 24 years old, stands five feet eleven inches and weighs 175 pounds.

* * *

Both Kroh and Pfiester, the Cubs' two left-handed pitchers, are out of the game on account of injuries, and President Murphy has been casting about for a southpaw pitcher.

Oaks Win From Beavers Angels Are Still Winning

Morning Game Is Tie at Los Angeles; Dillons Win After Lunch.

LOS ANGELES, July 18.—The locals played great ball here yesterday, tieing the morning game and stowing the second away easily. Tonight the Angels left for San Francisco to engage the Oaks in a series of seven games, and as both teams are fighting hard a great time is expected in the north.

The first game was a ten-inning tie, 2 to 2, and was called at the expiration of the time limit. The second game resulted in a walkaway for Dillon's high flyers, when they belted Carson's offerings hard and often for a total of eleven hits, winning 5 to 2.

More or less "bad blood" was spilled about the Chutes during the afternoon game. With the bases full in the third inning Hugh Smith grounded to Lindsay, who threw home to retire Dillon on a force play. Brown stood directly over the rubber and the Angel captain went right into him, the Vernon backstop being thrown to the ground from the force of the collision.

To all appearances the Villagers were out to "get" Dillon from this time on. In the fourth he was hit in the back with a pitched ball and in the fifth inning Stovall deliberately attempted to spike him. After hitting an easy grounder to Delmas the runner, Stovall, raced towards first at full speed and when five feet off that bag, jumped in the air and crashed across the bag feet first. Only Dillon's agility kept him out of the path of the "knives." No one but a blind man could have said that Stovall's action was not a premeditated one. For that matter Jess did not deny any of the charges hurled at him by the wrathy Dillonites.

It was a fine large fight from start to finish. Singles by Daley and Howard and a long double to center by Dillon netted the Angels two runs in the first inning. With the bases filled in the third, Delmas shoved a single into center, scoring Howard. Bernard singled in the fourth, stole second and scored when Howard dropped the ball over the infield guard line back of second. The fifth and last run of the Angels came in the seventh when Dillon doubled to right, took third on Murphy's out and scored on a wild pitch by Carson.

The Villagers got away with a lead of one run in the opening innings, Carlisle scoring on a base on balls, a steal and a long fly by Coy. Carson scored the other run for his team in the ninth inning when he put a three-bagger against the right center fence and scored when Howard, relaying the throw from Bernard, hit the runner, the ball rolling to the fence back of third.

In the morning game the Dillonites outbatted the Villagers almost three to one, but the best they could get was a tie game at the end of the tenth inning. Vernon scored runs in the first and eighth inning and the Angels got their two in the seventh and ninth innings.

PORTLAND, July 18.—Oakland got an even break in the series by beating Pitcher Krapp again yesterday, due to his wildness in the early innings and to Wares being hit in the head by Olson when he should have been an easy out at third. Krapp has not a victory to his credit against Oakland this year. He beat the Commuters once, but that game was thrown out on a protest.

Oakland's two runs came in the fifth. Wares walked and Thomas sacrificed him to second. Lively hit to Olson, who had plenty of time to get Wares at third. His throw hit Wares in the back of the head and rolled to the grand stand. Wares scored and Lively took third. Maggart's single over third scored him.

Jack Lively twirled for the visitors and was in trouble himself in the fourth, fifth and eighth innings, but one run in the last was all Portland got.

In the fourth Ryan opened with a double and Olson bunted him to third. On the squeeze play Rapps was called out for getting out of his box to hit the ball.

In the fifth two singles had men on third and first and Krapp was up with three balls and one strike when he lost his head and made a pop fly out of a bad one.

In the eighth Krapp was safe on Wares' bad throw. Ryan and Olson followed with singles and Rapps was walked, forcing in Portland's one run. Only one was out, but neither Fisher nor Martinke could put the ball out of the diamond.

University President Declares He Believes in Federal Control of Railways.

NEW YORK, July 18.—There is no danger [illegible] in government supervision, declares President David Starr Jordan of [illegible] ford, Jr. University, in an interview published here today.

On the contrary, he says, government supervision will benefit the railroads and the public by conserving the interests of both. It is far better for a railroad line which traverses many states to be under the supervision of a strong, able Interstate Commerce Commission than under the rule of the legislatures of many states.

IS BIG QUESTION

The [illegible] for the individual state [illegible] therefore the federal government has a right to [illegible] theory of states rights [illegible] concede that the government must handle these corporations [illegible] tions which have grown too large for the states to handle is ascend[illegible].

Constipation

For over nine years I suffered with chronic constipation and during this time I had to take an injection of warm water once every 24 hours before I could have an action on my bowels. Happily I tried Cascarets and today I am a well man. During the nine years before I used Cascarets I suffered untold misery with internal piles. Thanks to you I am free from all that this morning. You can use this in behalf of suffering humanity. B. F. Fisher, Roanoke, Ill.

IRREGULAR TONE AT DAY'S OPENING

WALL STREET, N. Y., July 18.—The opening dealings in stocks were unimportant, and induced only a sluggish price movement.

Gains were [illegible] more numerous, but there was a sufficient sprinkling of declines to give a slightly irregular tone to the market. Peoples Gas rose 1 3-8. A downward drift of prices established declines in Amalgamated Copper of 1 5-8, Rock Island preferred and American Steel Foundries 1 1-[illegible], Wabash 1 1-8, Reading and St. Paul [illegible], American Smelting and National Lead 1. Supporting orders restored the declines, but [illegible]ing was renewed and prices fell back again. Pittsburg Coal and Pressed Steel Car rose 1.

MODERATE SELLING

The sharp fall in prices of stocks during the morning resulted from only moderate selling. The stagnation of the [illegible] and discouraged holders for a rise and prompted an attack by an opposing speculative party. The reported shading of steel prices and dissatisfaction with the copper trade position were elements in the weakness of the market.

The general list showed numerous losses of 1 to 1 1-2. Reading fell 3 [illegible] 1 1-4, American Steel Foundries 2 1-2, Wabash preferred and Amalgamated Copper [illegible], U. S. Steel 1 [illegible] and Southern Pacific, Louisville and Nashville and Brooklyn Transit 1 [illegible]. [illegible] lessened the market into dullness and towards noon prices yielded again.

SEASON'S WHEAT AT RECORD MARK

Combination of Circumstances Forces Price for Crop to New Point.

CHICAGO, July 18.—A new high price record for wheat, the third within a week for this season's crop, was established today. Unbroken drought and heat in the northwest, excited buying on the part of shorts in Liverpool, world's shipments surprisingly light and damage by rains in France, all were influential on the bull side.

There was considerable selling out by longs here but the effect was only temporary, the market promptly going to a higher level than before. In addition to the crop losses in this country and Canada, the French yield it was predicted today would be thirty to thirty-five million bushels short. The opening was ¼@⅜ to 2⅛ up. September started at 108¼ to ½, a rise of ¼@⅜ to ⅝. Fluctuating widely the price went on advancing to 108¾.

Heavy sales of long wheat broke prices. All of the day's gains were lost. The close was weak with September at $1.07⅝@1.07¾, a net loss of ⅛@¼c to ⅜c.

Corn rose on general good buying. September started unchanged at 61½ to 62 and touched 62⅜.

When wheat weakened early buyers of corn turned sellers. The close was easy, a 61¼@61⅜c, a net loss of ⅛@¼c.

Local bulls were hard at work on the buying side of oats. September at the outset was ⅛@¼ to ¾@⅞ higher at 39⅞ to 40, sold at 39⅜ and rallied to 39⅝.

Stockyard speculators were acquiring provisions. An advance of 5 to 10 was shown at the opening. Further gains followed. First sales of the September option were 21.55 for pork, 11.7½ for lard and 11.5 for ribs.

The closing quotations were as follows:

Wheat—July, $1.10¼; September, $1.07⅝ to $1.07¾; December, $1.09¼ to $1.09; May, $1.11¼ to $1.11⅞.

Corn—July, 63⅜c; September, 60⅝c; December, 58⅞@59c.

Oats—July, 41⅝c; September, 39⅝c; December, 40⅝c; May, 42⅝c.

Pork—September, $21.52½.

Lard—July, $11.60@11.62½; September, $11.72½; October, $11.57½; November, $11.40.

Ribs—July, $11.92½; September, $11.92½; October, $10.47½.

Barley—Cash, 70@77c.

Rye—Cash, 77@78c; September, 75c; December, 7[illegible].

CHICAGO, July 18.—The Inter Ocean says: There are few big lines of long wheat held by local traders and several shorts who have big losses in their deals. The public have taken hold fairly in the Chicago market and very largely in the northwest. Shorts have covered and the market is becoming over bought and some local traders believe that it is very much so. Sharp fluctuations however have a tendency to force out weak speculators and prevent pyramiding such as usually happens in advancing markets and erratic changes are to be expected at any time. The general belief however is that while prices may work irregularly higher they will not reach the maximum until late in the season. What the corn will be this year depends upon the weather between now and the end of August. Drought conditions over a good part of the corn belt would not be a surprise in the next forty days. Part of the corn belt is short of moisture and some of the best corn traders are anticipating a material cut down in the present crop estimates.

LIVERPOOL GRAIN

LIVERPOOL, July 18.—Wheat at the opening was affected by the strength in America Saturday and prices were ¼d higher. Following the opening the market became excited and strong with heavy covering by shorts and prices further advanced ¾@1d with offerings light. Buying was stimulated by the scarcity of all new crop wheat, heavy rains in France and the firmness of cargoes, while [illegible] were 3 to 4d advance. World's shipments were surprisingly light and Mark Lane markets were generally 6d to 10s higher. Private reports received here late Saturday were that Canadian had been severely damaged and this caused renewed speculative buying. At midday the market was strong and excited and ¾d higher than Saturday. Corn firm and 1¼d higher on a good demand for La Plata cargoes which are strongly held.

LIVERPOOL, July 18.—Wheat—July, 7s [illegible]d; October, 7s 6[illegible]d; December, 7s 7¾d. Weather raining.

Chicago Grain and Provisions

(By J. C. WILSON.)

San Francisco, July 18, 1910.

Wheat—Opened excited and higher on strong Liverpool cables and the Winnipeg curb up over 2c. Commission houses had a plentiful supply of buying orders and that caused further quick advance, which did not culminate until July wheat sold to $1.11¼, September to $1.09, December to $1.10⅞, and May to $1.15. That meant new high prices all through. Fortunate holders who have been buying for several weeks took advantage of the quick bulge and sold a world of wheat. All this selling however, only caused a set back of less than 2c per bushel which was only natural and might simply be called a healthy reaction. The statistical news of the day as well as the crop news was mainly bullish. The only exception to this being the liberal receipts of winter wheat at primary markets and increased offerings from producers. The winter wheat farmer is certainly in clover and is making the most of the opportunity. World's shipments for the week were very light, only 6,484,000 bushels against over 9,000,000 bushels last week and a year ago. The American visible supply showed a decrease of nearly 800,000 bushels where an increase was indicated. The liberal movement of new winter wheat would ordinarily be a bearish factor but you will notice that July wheat in Chicago closed about 2½c per bushel premium over the September and about 1c over the December. If any delivery ought to be weak on the winter wheat movement it ought to be the July or the current month. The Elevator People in the different markets and the millers evidently are willing and anxious to pay a premium for the cash wheat while they can get it and this would seem wise. There will be plenty of need for it late on and some months from now cash wheat is likely to be ruling again at very large premiums just as it did last year. Harvest started today in the southern portion of the spring wheat country which means that even should there be bountiful rain now soon the damage already done can not be repaired. Some very bullish opinions were given out today by very good people. We will quote a few. Mr. Nicollet of the Kansas City Star issued quite an exhaustive statement in which he practically says that the United States this year will grow less wheat than will be required for home consumption. Mr. [illegible] Barnes of Duluth predicts it will be the wildest year ever known and that probably the highest prices for many years if not on record will be reached, and the Ames Brooks Co. of Duluth wired the following: Every time wheat sells off on the winter wheat movement buy some. This Northwest is hopelessly lost. We must import supplies. $1.30 is being paid here now for the tail end of the biggest spring wheat crop ever made and then guess what will be paid for the tail end of relatively the smallest crop ever grown. It is hardly necessary for us to make any comment on this opinion. It speaks for itself and we would add that this concern is one of the most reliable and best posted in the trade. The only danger now is temporary set backs such as we had today. However such reactions are just the ones that the most conservative people believe should be taken advantage of to buy December or May wheat. The highest prices for wheat on this crop may not be reached on this advance for it has been somewhat sentimental, but some time this fall or winter wheat could sell at the highest prices for many years and it would seem that the prudent speculator should take advantage of any set back to make purchases.

Corn—Also opened strong and sold up sharply but lost the advance later. East of the Mississippi river the corn country had splendid rain but most of the corn crop is raised west of there. The big corn states are Iowa, Northern Missouri and Kansas and Nebraska. That section of the country needs a whole lot more rain and needs it right away. Temperatures of over 100 prevailed in Kansas today. Some people may call this ideal weather for corn which would be true were there enough moisture in the ground. However the official reports from Washington show a serious lack of moisture the last few months. Some very good people who were recently bearish on corn are now talking bullish and we feel that that is the right side.

Oats—Went up some early but finished a little lower. This however was entirely in sympathy with the set back in corn. Purchases of December or May oats on any decline look all right.

Provisions—Were off early in the day but recovered most of the decline. In fact the close was a little higher than Saturday. We are [illegible] hopes we will see some [illegible] upturn and would wait for it to make sales of pork, lard and ribs.

WILL LAKEVIEW TURN TO WATER?

Engineers Fear Famous Gusher May Spout Something More Than Oil.

LOS ANGELES, July 18.—And now they are getting afraid that the flow of the Lakeview geyser reported to be dependent upon the ebb and flow of the tides of the Pacific is going to develop into a stream of ocean water that will swamp the oil fields. At least it is reported that such is the fear of some timorous people who have heard advanced the theory of the connection of the famous well with the big drink.

Is the flow of the great Lakeview geyser controlled by the tides of the Pacific? That is a question that is puzzling engineers and scientists since it was noticed recently that the volume of oil discharged by this world famous spouter varied at different times of the day.

Engineers believe they have found a solution of the phenomenon in the fact that the fluctuations in the flow of the great gusher are coincident with the ebb and flow of the tides of the Pacific ocean — that the inky fluid spouts in greater volume at high tide and diminishes considerably at low tide.

If this theory is correct it strengthens the contention of many scientists that the vast deposits of petroleum underlying California were once great inland seas and that there is still connection between the Pacific ocean and these subterranean seas of combustible fluid.

1600 FEET BELOW

The Lakeview gusher is 1600 feet below the mean level of the Santa Barbara channel and sixty miles distant. Despite this distance engineers have discovered that the flow of the gusher is directly affected by the tide. The torrent of oil increases with high tide and decreases with low tide but just what the ratio of increase and decrease is has not been determined although the difference is manifest.

According to geologists the wash of the sea has had much to do with the deposit of petroleum in the so called oil sands, it being found in zones as if cast up by the tides. As proof of this contention shellfish, starfish, mammoth oyster shells and sharks' teeth have been found in the oil sands of many fields in this state.

The Lakeview gusher was tapped on March 15 last since which time it has flowed from 40,000 to 60,000 barrels a day. The well came in at a depth of 2,[illegible]00 feet but has long since developed into an immense oil crater, the extent of which none can tell.

OIL NOTES

COALINGA.—Probably the best drilling record made in the Coalinga field will be beaten when the well of the British California Oil Company, Ltd., on [illegible] 20-16, is completed. The depth of the hole is at present 1500 feet and was drilled in less than eleven days. The manufacturers of the Johnson rotary have the contract for the drilling of the well but the work is being done entirely under the supervision of Superintendent Pollak of the British California. The equipment at the British California is considered the best one-rig plant in the field, having two seven-horse power boilers.

COALINGA.—Thirty-four hundred feet is the depth of the Turner well and something big in the way of a producer is apt to be heard of from this quarter most any day. Conditions at this well point strongly that one of the very largest of the Coalinga field will be developed here. Operations so far at the property have been going forward smoothly and to the entire satisfaction of the management. The property of the Turner is on [illegible] 10.

HARMONY EXISTS IN OIL DISTRICT

Business Men and Operators Work Together to Advance Fields.

COALINGA, July 18.—An illustration of absolute harmony existing in the Coalinga fields between the operators and the business interests of the community is forcibly put in the manner by which The British California Oil Company, Ltd., is exercising every safeguard in drilling its wells for the protection of the Coalinga Consolidated Water Company. The latter concern supplies the city of Coalinga with water for fire protection and all other uses with the exception of drinking purposes from water wells located in close proximity to the oil wells of the British California and for some time it has been apparent that the drilling of the oil wells incurred danger of draining the water wells and possibility of polluting them. The moment that this danger became apparent the British California corporation at once went to much trouble and considerable expense for the protection of its neighbor.

INSTALL SPECIAL CASING

Special casing was landed in the oil wells and everything done to prevent the least possible hindrance to the water company, yet they went about the work as though their own interests were at stake. It is but another instance showing the extent to which the operators in the Coalinga field and the business men of the city of Coalinga exert themselves for attaining mutual benefits.

CITY APACE WITH FIELD

To show how the city of Coalinga has kept pace with the rapid strides made in the development of the oil industry in the Coalinga field reference to the figures on valuations is given out by the Fresno county assessor's office is all that is necessary. While the remainder of the county shows either decrease in valuations or slight increases the figures for Coalinga demonstrate that the oil industry has done wonders for the city during the last year.

The statement of the assessor shows that while the valuation for Coalinga for the year 1909-10 footed $727,182, for 1910-11 the amount is $874,434, or an increase of $147,2[illegible]. Extension of the business lines in the city still continues at a rapid pace and it will be thus for a long time to come as neither the Coalinga field or the city will attain their ultimate and tremendous full growth until many years in the future.

Suggestions From Daahl

If business is on the bum, sir,
And everything seems gone to the bog,
The customers run by the door, sir,
As though they were chased by a dog;
Go out on the sidewalk and look, sir,
At the show in your window, is it right—
Should you notice it faded but slightly,
You can see why you are in this plight.
Then do not growl at hard times, sir,
But scamper like blazes to get
One of F. Daahl's patent awnings
And your trouble will cease very quick.

If people are looking for bargains
They surely will pass by your store
If they see that the stuff is faded
That you show in your window or door.
To protect your goods you need it,
One of Daahl's patent awnings, that's sure,
Or your opposition fellow will steal, sir,
All your trade away to his store—
For he has used Daahl's make of awnings
For twenty years or more.

If you look around in the country
Or ask the storekeepers at large
Which they think the best awning made, sir,
They will all shout until they are hoarse,
Use none but F. Daahl's patent awnings,
For other makes go out of whack
Just the time you need them the most, sir,
They will either break down or get stuck.

Again if you go down the line, sir,
And see all the stores that go broke,
Your hair would stand on end, sir,
And you would swallow a lump down your throat.
If you ask them the reason they fail, sir,
They will all say the trouble was this:
We did not use Daahl's patent awnings
And our business went up in the mist.

So why now delay any longer
And scare all the trade from your store
By using the wrong make of awnings
When relief is so near to your door?
Hurry, ring up Oakland [illegible], sir,
[illegible]
I will sell you Daahl's patent awnings,
And you'll surely make money again.

After making your stack you want leisure
And enjoy a quiet rest at your home,
There is only one way to get pleasure—
Just holler for Daahl at the phone;
Let him cover your porches and windows
With awnings and your lawns with tents—
It will add long years to your life, sir,
And will more than pay for what's spent.

Then you'll see your children grow up, sir,
And their beauty improve every day,
For Daahl's awnings are known over the world, sir,
To drive pimples and freckles away.
If any of your young folks get married,
Rent a canopy from Daahl's for the church,
Let him cover your carpets with canvas—
If you have Daahl's there'll be no divorce.

You no doubt have read in the papers
Of Thoms' new Pure Air Machine,
His automobile Tents and so forth—
The like before never were seen.
If you want to meet this young fellow,
To Daahl's you will have to go,
For his work is what makes Frisco so jealous
And Oakland so famous, you know.
